Backcountry Camping on Santa Cruz Island

Del Norte is currently the only backcountry campground on Santa Cruz Island. It is nestled in a shaded oak grove and provides scenic views of the pristine coastline along the island. To reach this backcountry site, visitors will backpack along a historic ranch road/trail through a series of canyons and ridges, to a vista about 700 feet above sea level. This moderate to strenuous 3.5-mile hike from Prisoners Harbor travels through island oak woodlands and coastal sage scrub plant communities. A section of the trail meanders through thick stands of introduced fennel, a species targeted for removal in future restoration efforts planned by the park.

The National Park Service opened this backcountry site in recognition of its rare wilderness values. As you explore these wild areas, please take the responsibility to help us protect and preserve these delicate natural resources for future generations. The following information will help you enjoy your visit while leaving the smallest impact on the island.

WARNING: While backcountry camping is an incredible experience, it is not for the inexperienced backpacker. Due to difficult weather, rugged terrain and off-trail hiking, backcountry camping is an arduous endeavor and should be undertaken only by experienced, well-conditioned backpackers.

Campground Facilities

The Del Norte campground has four primitive campsites (four persons per site) and users must camp within these designated sites. A picnic table and pit-style toilet are provided (campers must bring their own toilet paper).

Visitors are encouraged to pack as light as possible (backpacking style) as they will need to carry all of their gear, food, and water to the campsite.

Water is not available. However, depending on rainfall and pig damage for the year, stream water might be available near Prisoners Harbor at the mouth of Cañada del Puerto and at springs located in Cañada del Agua and Cañada del Puerto. See the map on the back for details. All water must be treated with iodine, a filter, or by boiling before any use.

No fires (including charcoal) are permitted. Only enclosed camp stoves are allowed. Campers must pack out their own trash; trash containers are not provided.

The Hike

From Prisoners Harbor, the shortest route to the Del Norte campground is 3.5 miles via the Del Norte Trail. Follow the Navy Road out of Prisoners Harbor for 1 mile (600-foot elevation gain; strenuous). This gravel road is still used daily by vehicles, so please use caution while hiking along it. At the signed turn-off for Del Norte Trail, leave the gravel road and continue east (left) along the trail for 2.0 miles. The trail winds up and down two canyons (Cañada del Agua and Cañada del Muro) to the signed junction with the Del Norte Road that leads 5 miles to the campground. The longer route (4.3 miles), which provides views of the southside of the island, follows the Navy Road as it climbs 1200 feet over 3.8 miles and eventually reaches the junction with the Del Norte Road. At the signed junction, turn north (left) and descend 500 feet to the campground.

From Scorpion Anchorage, Del Norte campground is approximately 11.5 miles via the Del Norte Trail or 13.5 miles via the Navy Road. Please see the “Hiking Eastern Santa Cruz” site bulletin, or the park newspaper for descriptions of other hikes in the area.

The Weather

Camper should be prepared for a variety of weather conditions. Strong winds are not uncommon. Fog can occur on the islands during any season producing cool, damp conditions.

Due to scavenging animals (including birds), campers are required to store all food and trash in animal- and bird-proof containers. National Park Service food storage boxes are provided at campsites, but coolers, plastic Rubber Maid-type boxes, backpacking-style bear cannisters or other types of containers with sealing lids may be used as well. Due to scavenging pigs, do not store any food or trash in tents. If not using food storage boxes, secure your containers to picnic tables or trees with straps or rope, or place food and trash in duffle bags and/or backpacks and hang from trees.

Since the mice do carry hantavirus, some basic precautions should be taken: do not feed any wild animals; keep food and drink in rodent-proof containers; and prevent entry of mice into your tent by keeping it zipped up at all times. For more information on hantavirus, refer to the park newspaper or brochure that is available at the park visitor center or at the bulletin boards on the islands. Shade is limited and overexposure to the wind and sun can be a serious problem. Visitors are advised to bring supplies for an extra day in case boats are unable to pick up campers due to sea conditions.

Reservations

Backcountry campers must first secure boat transportation to Santa Cruz Island (Prisoners Harbor or Scorpion Anchorage) through the park’s boat concessionaires (Island Packers (805) 642-1393, www.islandpackers.com or Truth Aquatics (805) 963-3564, www.truthaquatics.com) or by their own private vessel. Camping reservations are required in advance and can be made by calling 1-800-365-CAMP (2267) or through the Internet at http://reservations.nps.gov. Please specify “Santa Cruz Del Norte backcountry” when reserving sites.
