

Flight 93 National Memorial

*“A common field one day,
a field of honor forever.”*

United Airlines Flight 93 crashed into a grassy field near rural Shanksville, shattering the quiet of the Pennsylvania countryside. Those who rushed to the scene looked on in disbelief at charred trees and a smoldering crater. The community, like countless others across the nation, was shaken by the crash and the unimaginable violence and destruction al-Qaeda terrorists brought to the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. But as the day unfolded, this common field revealed a compelling story of courage and hope.

Flight 93 National Memorial is a tribute to the passengers and crew of Flight 93 and is a place to explore this inspiring story. Journey to a simple field that is their final resting place and a lasting testament to the extraordinary courage of forty ordinary people.

Discover a story of courage, action, and honor.

Features and Services

A 3.5 mile scenic drive leads visitors from the entrance at US Route 30 to the Memorial Plaza at the crash site where visitors may:

- view panels in an outdoor exhibit area and learn more through cell phone tours;
- talk with Park Rangers and volunteer Ambassadors;
- participate in interpretive programs;
- view the field where Flight 93 crashed, which is the final resting place of the passengers and crew, and walk to the Wall of Names.

Future Plans

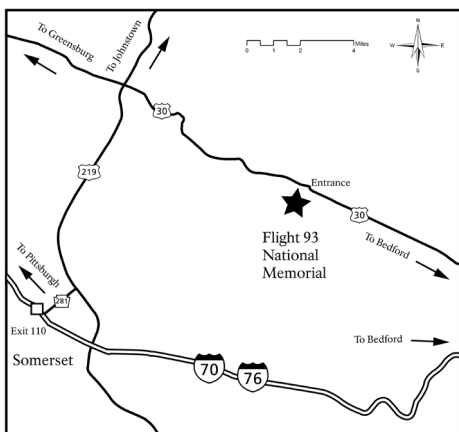

The next phase of memorial construction will include a Visitor Center Complex that will more fully tell the story of Flight 93. Forty Memorial Groves of trees will be planted and a Tower of Voices with forty wind chimes will be located at the entrance to the memorial.
