Ride to the top of the St. Louis Arch with your family. Canoe in the solitude of the secluded Current or Jacks Fork Rivers in the Ozark hills of Missouri. Try on a voyageur's bright-banded wool coat and floppy cap at a fur trading site in Northern Minnesota. Hike one of America's prime wilderness areas, Lake Superior's Isle Royale National Park. You can do it all without leaving the region we know as the nation's breadbasket.

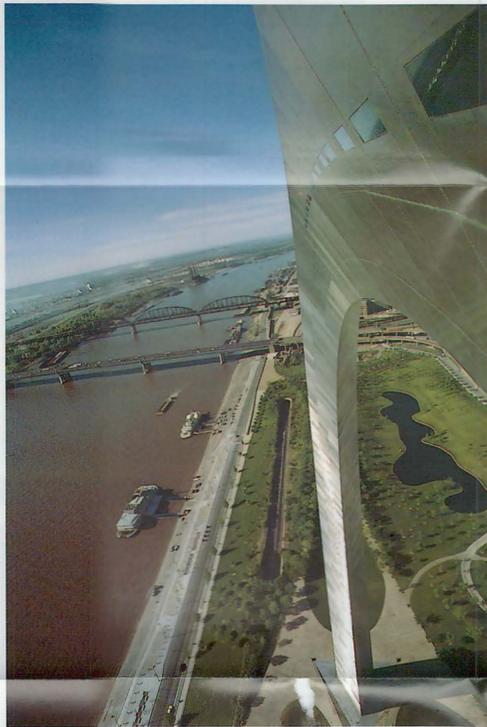

Wedged like a keystone into the northern half of the nation are the 10 central plains and lakes states. The Great Lakes' shorelines of six—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota—form an inland coast of more than 3,500 miles. To the south and west the prairies and woodlands of Iowa and Missouri become the expansive Great Plains in Nebraska and Kansas. Two great rivers, the Mississippi and the Missouri, drain the region. Many other streams contribute to its character and beauty and are important sources of recreation.

This is the Midwest, home to one out of four Americans. Within the region the National Park Service (NPS) preserves some of the most significant sites associated with the historical dramas which took place here: the ebb and flow of Indian cultures, the fur trade, exploration and opening of the West, Civil War and frontier battles. The Service also administers parks, recreation areas, lakeshores, and riverways in areas of exceptional natural beauty where you may boat, fish, hike, and camp. At Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area between Cleveland and Akron, Ohio, you can even see a play or hear a major symphony orchestra.

Not all NPS areas in the Midwest are as close at hand as Cuyahoga Valley is to its surrounding metropolitan area. Yet thanks in part to the Interstate Highway network, there is a unit of the National Park System within a day's drive of almost any place in the region.

For detailed information on an individual park in the Midwest Region, you may write the superintendent whose address follows the park description in this folder.

A few parks are affiliated with but not administered by the NPS, although the Service supplies them with

NPS units, state by state

Most parks are open all year, but operating times of visitor centers and other facilities may vary. There are entrance fees at some parks and fees may be charged for some services and activities. Hunting is permitted only in recreational-type areas and is regulated by state as well as Federal law. If you are going fishing, a state license will be required. Watercraft use is subject to state and Coast Guard regulations. All parks require that pets be leashed, and they may not be taken on tours, trails, or into the backcountry.

Individual parks will be glad to provide more specific information about schedules and regulations.

Illinois

LINCOLN HOME NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. In an historic area near the heart of Springfield, the home where Abraham Lincoln and his family lived for 17 years prior to his presidency is restored and furnished. (Superintendent: 426 South Seventh Street, Springfield, IL 62701)

ILLINOIS AND MICHIGAN CANAL NATIONAL HERITAGE CORRIDOR. Stretching 120 miles between Chicago and Peru, the corridor embraces museums and interpretive centers, historical sites, and recreational facilities. It is affiliated with the National Park System and administered by a Federal commission. (Executive Director: 30 North Bluff, Joliet, IL 60435)

Indiana

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK NATIONAL HISTORIC PARK. Commemorating the 1778-79 American conquest of the British in what today is Indiana, this park in Vincennes includes a visitor center and memorial to Clark at the site of old Fort Sackville. Other historical structures are within a few blocks. (Superintendent: 401 South Second Street, Vincennes, IN 47591)

INDIANA DUNES NATIONAL LAKESHORE. The magnificent sand dunes of this park, which fronts Lake Michigan for 15 miles, rise to 180 feet. There also are marshes, ponds, bogs, and other remnants of an environment created by glaciation, wind, and water. An 1822 homestead and a 1900 farm have been preserved, and recreational opportunities abound. The park is located just north of I-94. U.S. 12 runs its full length and provides access to all major developed areas. (Superintendent: 1100 North Mineral Springs Road, Porter, IN 46304)

LINCOLN BOYHOOD NATIONAL MEMORIAL. Traditional crops still grow in this historical setting in southern Indiana on a farm where Abraham Lincoln grew to manhood. His mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, is buried here. The memorial is on State Highway 162, 4 miles south of Dale and 6 miles south of I-64. (Superintendent: Lincoln Boyhood NM, Lincoln City, IN 47552)

Iowa

EFFIGY MOUNDS NATIONAL MONUMENT. On wooded bluffs above the Mississippi River, prehistoric Indian hunters built burial mounds in the shape of birds and animals. The site offers superb panoramas of the river country. The monument is on State Highway 76, 3 miles north of Marquette. (Superintendent: Rural Route 1, Box 25A, Harpers Ferry, IA 52146)

HERBERT HOOVER NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. The restored birthplace cottage of the 31st President and associated historic structures recall the 19th century Iowa village where he grew up. The Presidential Library and graves of President and Mrs. Hoover are in the park. The site is part of the town of West Branch, adjacent to I-80, 8 miles east of Iowa City. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 607, West Branch, IA 52358)

Kansas

FORT LARNED NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. From this frontier military post, troops rode out to protect the Kansas segment of the Santa Fe trail. It is 6 miles west of the city of Larned on State Highway 156. (Superintendent: Route 3, Larned, KS 67550)

FORT SCOTT NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. Established in 1842, the fort was the home of Dragoons, elite frontier army troops who could fight on foot or on horseback. Restored and reconstructed, the fort is located immediately adjacent to the city of Fort Scott business district. (Superintendent: Old Fort Boulevard, Fort Scott, KS 66701)

Michigan

ISLE ROYALE NATIONAL PARK. An island wilderness in Lake Superior, it provides 175 miles of foot trails and a spectacular environment for boating. Visitors may reach the park by floatplane or by passenger boats from Houghton and Copper Harbor, Michigan, and Grand Portage in Minnesota. A lodge and housekeeping facilities as well as a variety of campsites are available. (Superintendent: 87 North Ripley Street, Houghton, MI 49931)

PICTURED ROCKS NATIONAL LAKESHORE. This scenic area comprises 40 miles of Lake Superior shoreline with cliffs, beaches, dunes, waterfalls, and forests. Hiking trails run the length of the park, and there are both backcountry hike-in camp sites and campgrounds accessible by car. Lake Superior boat tours are available from nearby Munising. Park gateways are Munising on the west and Grand Marais on the east. In between, County Road H-58 provides access to sites within the park. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 40, Munising, MI 49862)

SLEEPING BEAR DUNES NATIONAL LAKESHORE. The park's diverse, hilly landscape fringed with massive coastal sand dunes is an area of clear lakes, birch-lined streams and dense beech-maple forests which can be seen by trail or roadway. Two islands in the park are served by a ferry and appeal to hikers and backpackers. The park is 20 miles northwest of Traverse City and reachable by several roads including U.S. 31 and State 22. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 277, 9922 Front Street, Empire, MI 49630)

FATHER MARQUETTE NATIONAL MEMORIAL. This affiliated area honoring the French priest and explorer is located in Straits State Park off I-75 at the outskirts of St. Ignace and is administered by the Parks Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources. (Information from that division: P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909)

National Parks in the Midwest

Take Pride in America

Nothing inspires pride in our land more than experiencing firsthand the majesty of a national park or walking the ground on which history was made. One expression of that pride is helping to protect the parks and keep them clean. It costs the National Park Service $15 million a year simply to pick up trash and litter. With help from park visitors, much of that money could be saved and used to improve trails, modernize aging facilities, or finance other needed projects.

Five National Trails cross parts of region

Five of the 13 long-distance components of the National Trails System cross portions of the Midwest Region. Each is administered by the NPS in cooperation with other federal, state, and private agencies and organizations. Though all are in the developmental stage, parts of each are complete and in use. You may hike and backpack all operating sections of the National Scenic Trails and drive to numerous interpretive sites along National Historic Trails. Trail routes are shown on the regional map. More information on Ice Age, Lewis and Clark, and North Country Trails is available from the Trail Coordinator, NPS, Midwest Regional Office, 1709 Jackson Street, Omaha, NE 68102-2571.

ICE AGE NATIONAL SCENIC TRAIL winds through Wisconsin linking six of the nine units of the Ice Age National Scientific Reserve. The 1,000-mile route generally follows terminal moraines of the most recent glaciation but diverges in several areas to include other glacial features. About 350 miles have been completed.

LEWIS AND CLARK NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAIL begins at Wood River, Illinois, and traces the 1804-6 routes of the Lewis and Clark Expedition to and from the mouth of the Columbia River at the Pacific Ocean. Boats or canoes may be used on water portions of the route. Land portions can be traveled by foot or horseback. Some portions of the historic itinerary can be retraced by following modern-day roads.

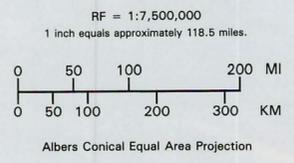

NORTH COUNTRY NATIONAL SCENIC TRAIL, when completed, will extend some 3,200 miles from near Crown Point, New York to Lake Sakakawea State Park on the Missouri River in North Dakota. About one-third of the trail is now open.

OREGON NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAIL follows the route of the pioneers who migrated westward to the Oregon country beginning in 1841. Portions of the trail on public lands are marked and can be retraced. More information is available from the Pacific Northwest Regional Office, NPS, 83 South King Street, Suite 212, Seattle, WA 98104.

MORMON PIONEER NATIONAL HISTORIC TRAIL traces the historic Mormon trek from Nauvoo, Illinois to the Salt Lake Valley which took place in 1846-47 and subsequent years. A marked motor route parallels the historic route. More information is available from the Rocky Mountain Regional Office, NPS, 655 Parfet Street, P.O. Box 25287, Denver, CO 80225.

GRAND PORTAGE NATIONAL MONUMENT. Located just below the Canadian border, the monument includes a reconstructed 18th century fur trading post and a 9-mile trail which was once the route of voyageurs portaging canoes and cargo around falls and rapids of the Pigeon River. The monument on U.S. 61, 36 miles northeast of Grand Marais, also is an embarkation point for a passenger boat to Isle Royale. (Superintendent: Box 666, Grand Marais, MN 55604)

PIPESTONE NATIONAL MONUMENT. For hundreds of years the sacred pipestone (catlinite) quarries here have attracted Indians. Visitors may still watch native American craftsmen fashioning traditional pipes from the soft, red rock and can view other craft demonstrations and displays in the Upper Midwest Indian Cultural Center. The center is part of the monument which is located on the outskirts of the city of Pipestone. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 727, Pipestone, MN 56164)

VOYAGEURS NATIONAL PARK. Fishing boats, houseboats, sailboats, canoes, and cabin cruisers ply its 30 lakes and provide access to trailheads and 100 primitive camp sites. Cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, and ice fishing are popular in the winter. Resorts outside the park provide guide services and boat rentals as well as food and lodging. Park access is from International Falls via State Highway 11 or from U.S. 53. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 50, International Falls, MN 56649)

SAINT CROIX NATIONAL SCENIC RIVERWAY (See Wisconsin)

Missouri

GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER NATIONAL MONUMENT. At this rural site, Carver, the black educator and agronomist, was born and lived as a boy. It is 7 miles south of I-44 on Alternate U.S. 71 to Diamond, and then via county roads to the park. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 38, Diamond, MO 64840)

HARRY S TRUMAN NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. The white, Victorian house on tree-lined Delaware Street was home to the 33rd President for more than half a century. NPS tours begin at a ticket and information center at Truman Road and Main Street in Independence. (Superintendent: 223 North Main Street, Independence, MO 64050-2804)

JEFFERSON NATIONAL EXPANSION MEMORIAL. The stainless steel Gateway Arch rises 630 feet above landscaped grounds on the Mississippi riverfront in St. Louis. Beneath it is the Museum of Westward Expansion, and nearby is the Old Courthouse where Dred Scott sued for freedom in the historic slavery case. (Superintendent: 11 North Fourth Street, St. Louis, MO 63102)

OSZARK NATIONAL SCENIC RIVERWAYS. One hundred thirty-four miles of the Jacks Fork and Current Rivers provide year-round canoeing and johnboating through timbered Ozark hill country. There are huge fresh-water springs and numerous caves plus historic structures related to the local culture. U.S. 63, State Highway 72 south of Rolla, or U.S. 60 northwest of Poplar Bluffs provide access to the riverways. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 490, Van Buren, MO 63965)

Nebraska

WILSON'S CREEK NATIONAL BATTLEFIELD. On August 10, 1861, more than 17,000 Union and Confederate troops fought here for 5 bloody hours at the cost of 2,539 lives. A self-guided automobile tour takes visitors to major battle sites. The park is 10 miles southwest of Springfield via U.S. 60 and State Roads M and ZZ. (Superintendent: Postal Drawer C, Republic, MO 65738)

AGATE FOSSIL BEDS NATIONAL MONUMENT. This site is a rich and relatively undisturbed repository of ancient fossil mammal bones. Exhibits explain the fossil story, and an area of exposed fossils may be visited via self-guided trail. The monument is reachable by State Highway 29 either from Harrison 20 miles to the north or from Mitchell 34 miles south. (Administered by Scotts Bluff NM Superintendent: P.O. Box 427, Gering, NE 69341-0427)

HOMESTEAD NATIONAL MONUMENT OF AMERICA. One of the first claims under the Homestead Act of 1862 was established here. The monument includes a remnant of the once-vast prairie and an 1872 one-room schoolhouse. It is on State Highway 4, 4 1/2 miles west of Beatrice. (Superintendent: Route 3, Box 47, Beatrice, NE 68310)

SCOTTS BLUFF NATIONAL MONUMENT. The sandstone and clay bluff rising 800 feet above the plain was a milepost for wagon trains rolling west along the Oregon Trail. Visitors may hike or drive to the bluff top. The monument is 5 miles southwest of the city of Scottsbluff. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 427, Gering, NE 69341-0427)

Ohio

CHIMNEY ROCK NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. The rock, a famous Oregon Trail landmark, is located 19 miles east of Gering on State Highway 92. The NPS shares the administration of this affiliated area. (Information available from Superintendent, Scotts Bluff NM)

MISSOURI NATIONAL RECREATIONAL RIVER. This is a 59-mile reach of the river between Gavins Point Dam at Yankton, South Dakota, and Ponca State Park in Nebraska. The NPS and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will cooperate in development which is still being planned. (Information available from Regional Director, NPS, Midwest Region, 1709 Jackson Street, Omaha, NE 68102-2571)

CUYAHOGA VALLEY NATIONAL RECREATION AREA. Its 32,000 acres of the pastoral Cuyahoga River Valley lie between Cleveland and Akron. Activities range from skiing and bicycling to attending concerts and plays. Portions of the historic Ohio and Erie Canal are preserved. Fees are charged for some activities not owned and operated by the NPS. I-80, I-77, and I-271 all exit near the park. (Superintendent: 15610 Vaughn Road, Brecksville, OH 44141)

MOUND CITY GROUP NATIONAL MONUMENT. The site where Hopewellian people lived nearly 2,000 years ago preserves 23 burial mounds which have yielded beautifully carved stone pipes, copper breastplates, and other objects. The monument is on State Route 104, 3 miles north of Chillicothe. (Superintendent: 16062 State, Route 104, Chillicothe, OH 45601)

PERRY'S VICTORY AND INTERNATIONAL PEACE MEMORIAL. Admiral Perry's victory over the British during the War of 1812 is commemorated by a 352-foot-high Doric column on a Lake Erie island. From atop the column visitors may view the battle area. From April through November automobile ferries operate from Catawba Point and Port Clinton which is on State Highway 2. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 549, Put-In-Bay, OH 43456)

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. Exterior restoration has been completed on the home where the Supreme Court Chief Justice and 27th President was born and raised. It is located at 2038 Auburn Avenue in Cincinnati. (Superintendent may be reached at that address, zip code 45219)

JAMES A. GARFIELD NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE. The Mentor, Ohio, home of the 20th President is located at 1950 Mentor Avenue. It currently is managed by Western Reserve Historical Society and is open to the public. (Direct information requests to the Society at that address, zip code 44060)

DAVID BERGER NATIONAL MEMORIAL. An NPS affiliated area, the memorial honors 11 Israeli athletes including Berger, an American, assassinated at the 1972 Olympic Games. It is located at the Jewish Community Center, 3505 Mayfield Road, Cleveland Heights. (Information is available from the Jewish Community Center at that address, zip code 44118)

Wisconsin

APOSTLE ISLANDS NATIONAL LAKESHORE. Twenty-one islands and an 11-mile strip of southern Lake Superior shoreline offer a variety of outdoor activities. There are launching sites and marinas for boaters, and boat excursions are available. It is a popular sail-boating area and one of the best fish habitats in Lake Superior. The park is reachable via State Highway 13 from Bayfield to the south or Duluth, Minnesota, to the west. (Superintendent: Route 1, Box 4, Bayfield, WI 54814)

ICE AGE NATIONAL SCIENTIFIC RESERVE. Nine units spreading across the State make up this affiliated area. Each exhibits evidence of the great glacial advances which occurred as recently as 12,000 years ago. The area is administered by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. (Information is available from: Bureau of Parks and Recreation, Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 7921, Madison, WI 53707)

SAINT CROIX NATIONAL SCENIC RIVERWAY. The Namekagon and St. Croix Rivers flow 252 miles through scenic and little-developed parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin. The upper 200 miles offer superb canoeing and camping. Power boating is popular on the lower river which is wider, deeper, and slower. The riverway is flanked by several State parks. I-35, I-94, and connecting highways provide access. (Superintendent: P.O. Box 708, St. Croix Falls, WI 54024)

Play it safe

Please think about your safety and that of those about you while you enjoy the parks.

The right footwear will help prevent slipping or falling on trails.

Enjoy views from overlooks, not from unprotected ledges. Be sure children do the same.

Lakes and rivers are major attractions. But accidents - including fatal ones - can occur on the water, so please read safety messages and take them to heart.

Before you explore an unfamiliar area or try an activity that is new to you, check it out with a Ranger.

Don't feed or try to pet animals. They are not as harmless as they look, and they are not tame.

Driving safely applies in the parks too. Whether on a bike or behind a wheel, keep other drivers and road conditions in mind.

The best holiday is the one from which everyone returns home safely.
