

River Raisin
National Battlefield Park

MEET MAJOR MUSKRAT

at River Raisin National Battlefield Park

JOIN MAJOR MUSKRAT

as he explores River Raisin National Battlefield Park in search of clues from the past that will help unlock the meaning of "Remember the Raisin!" Discover hints left by the people who once lived along the River Raisin and figure out how they tell us about a mighty war between nations that forced them to choose a side, forever changing the direction of their lives and yours.

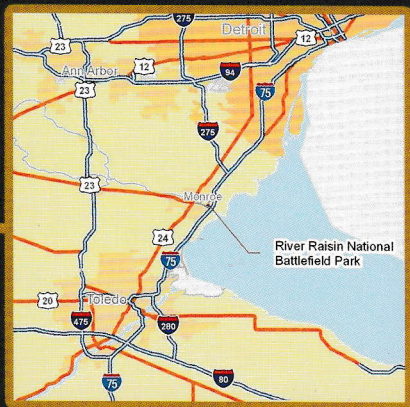

History is brought to life at River Raisin National Battlefield Park through a variety of activities and programs on the actual Battlefield that help people of all ages remember, reflect, understand, honor and commit to preserving the memories and tangible reminders of the past to help build a better future. As you walk the Battlefield, you will soon discover how the events that took place where you are standing played a part in who you are and where you live today! In honor of our veterans and members of the American Armed Forces, the Battlefield is open free of charge to all who visit.

Visitor Center Open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
(closed Thanksgiving, Christmas & New Year's Day)
Battlefield Grounds Open Sunrise to Sunset.

Adjacent to Sterling State Park, the Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge and the River Raisin Heritage Trail in historic Monroe, Michigan.

Take Exit 15 off of I-75
 and follow the signs a short distance to the west

River Raisin
 National Battlefield Park

1403 E. Elm Ave Monroe, Michigan 48162
www.nps.gov/rira/ 734-243-7136
 www.facebook.com/majormuskrat