Moderate 1,070-foot elevation gain

Hiking Difficulty Scale

Easiest: Generally suitable for anyone who enjoys walking. Mostly level or with a slight incline. Generally less than 3 miles.

Moderate: A moderate hike generally suitable for novice hikers seeking a bit of a challenge. The terrain will involve a moderate incline and may have some steeper sections. Generally 3 to 5 miles.

Moderately Strenuous: Generally challenging for an unconditioned person. The terrain will involve a steady and often steep incline. Generally 5 to 8 miles.

Markers & Blazes

Trail markers are at trailheads and intersections. The metal bands are stamped with directional and mileage information.

Trail blazes are found on trees and rocks throughout the Park. The color identifies the trail type:

- Blue - Hiking trail
- White - Appalachian Trail
- Yellow - Open to horses

Need to Know

- Pets must be on a leash no longer than 6 feet at all times.
- Be sure you are physically able to complete the hike you've chosen.
- Take plenty of water—at least a quart per hour.
- When you return from your hike, check for ticks.
- Be sure someone knows where you are and when to expect your return.
- Stay on the trail and avoid trampling sensitive vegetation
- Cell and GPS services are unreliable.

Good to Know

When hiking in Shenandoah, it's always good to stay on the trail for your safety and for the protection of the natural and cultural resources. On Marys Rock, it's particularly important! Fragile plants and lichens thrive in these rocky places. Take in the expansive views, but don't forget to notice what's underfoot to avoid crushing fragile plants and lichen!

Fun to Know

Like many of the Park trails, Marys Rock Trail was built by the "boys" of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). While you're at the Park stop by Byrd Visitor Center (mile 51) to learn more about these young men who made Shenandoah what it is today!

Strenuous: Will challenge most hikers. The hike will generally be longer and steeper, but may be deemed strenuous because of the elevation gain. Generally 7 to 10 miles.

Very Strenuous: Only well conditioned and well prepared hikers should attempt. Generally long and steep, and may include rock scrambling, stream crossings, and other challenging terrain. Generally 8 miles and over.
