

NATIONAL PARKS COLLECTION

BLUE RIDGE PARKWAY

6

BLUE RIDGE PARKWAY

NORTH CAROLINA
& VIRGINIA

Blue Ridge Parkway is in good company when it comes to natural beauty. Flanked by Virginia's breathtaking Shenandoah National Park to the north and the majestic Great Smoky Mountains National Park of Tennessee to the south, the Parkway holds some of the country's most inspiring scenery.

Running parallel of the Appalachian Mountain Range, the Blue Ridge Parkway is home to mountains, lakes and wildflower meadows, as well as an abundance of wildlife.

With all the nature, camping is quite popular with many sites throughout the park.

SPECIAL INFORMATION

Camp sites are open May to October; a fee is assessed per day. Other features include The Minerals Museum at Spruce Pine, NC, and the Folk Art Center in Asheville, NC. • Superintendent, Blue Ridge Parkway, 400 BB & T Building, Pack Square, Asheville, NC 28801 (704) 298-0398.