

Welcome

Welcome to the National Park System!

We who staff the parks appreciate your interest and support.

You are the most important resource of the park. Your interest and the modest fee you pay on arrival will help us to assure that this and future generations can share the pleasure you will find here. Your entrance and user fee will go to the units of the National Park System to be used for interpretation, research, and resource management.

For your safety and that of others, please pay attention to our safety messages to insure a safe and pleasant visit. Wild animals are dangerous - Please be careful.

We will do our best to help you and to take care of the park.

Please help us so that future generations may enjoy the same privileges as you have.

Thank You

William Penn Mott, Jr.
Director, National Park Service

FROM THE STAFF OF THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

- We hope that your visit to this National Park site will be a meaningful and enjoyable experience. Help to maintain and preserve this site for future generations by taking time to put your litter in a can or bag, and protecting the natural and cultural resources.
- Litter pick-up and disposal costs the taxpayer approximately $15 million a year.
- "All Americans should take pride in their outstanding public lands and historic sites that belong to everyone... We must all work together for a renewed awareness that these lands are our lands." - President Reagan
