

POINTS OF INTEREST ALONG THE TRAIL

- 1. The Field – you are passing through the field that was once farmed by the Thomas Lincoln family.
- 2. Knob Creek – on your right is Knob Creek, water source for the farm. This is also the creek where Austin Gollaher reportedly rescued young Abraham when he fell into the creek. Try to imagine the flash floods that occasionally washed away Thomas Lincoln's crops.
- 3. The Spur Climb – as you walk out of the field, you will begin to climb a very steep incline to the top of the ridge above the farm – use caution the trail is slippery, uneven and rocky.
- 4. A young Lincoln – once you're on top of the ridge take a few minutes to look around the fields and knobs and imagine what life would have been like for Lincoln in the early 1800's.
- 5. The Pond – as you pass the pond you will notice a wide variety of amphibians and birds living in and near this water source.
- 6. The Overlook – you will see a great view of the valley that Abraham Lincoln once lived in; the road you see below is US 31E, which follows the old Bardstown Green River Turnpike.
