Get Those Kids Outside!

Have you heard all the talk about kids spending too much time indoors and not enough exploring and connecting with nature? It's been the topic of several books, and the predicted outcome is dire: unhealthy kids growing into adults who can't relate to nature. Just as you're doing your part by choosing to come here, the staff at Acadia is working to make sure the predictions don't come true. This summer you'll notice expanded offerings for kids as part of the new Engage Youth project, which focuses on family programs, student employment, technology innovations, ranger-guided activities, special events, and financial assistance to bring schools to the park.

Schools are a logical place to start building connections. Each spring and fall, Acadia's education staff travels to classrooms and brings students to the park for curriculum-based programs for grades three through eight. Maine schools are the most common, but we welcome all schools—this year we had a school from Hawaii!

The Teacher-Ranger-Teacher program also focuses on students and teachers. Four teacher-rangers are working at Acadia National Park and Saint Croix Island International Historic Site this summer, creating lesson plans to use when they return to their classrooms. During National Park Week in April, they don their uniforms and present special programs to bring the parks to their students. Other teachers apply for stipends to attend summer workshops, or to pay for their school's park visit.

Once the students get to high school and college, they can become Next Generation Rangers. The Acadia Youth Conservation Corps, student park rangers, and internships allow students to work in and learn about one of the jewels of the National Park System—not a bad way to spend a summer or earn college credit!

We're also reaching out to kids at home, in schools, and in the park through technology. We're working on MP3 tours of the park, enhanced kids' web pages, distance learning broadcasts, and even cell phone tours. In the future, we hope to develop electronic field trips for students and hands-on, interactive exhibits at the Nature Center.

Ranger-guided activities and special events continue this year as always, with an even bigger schedule of programs for kids. Join a park ranger for walks, talks, and hikes as you explore the park with your children. (Don't forget Family Fun Day on Sunday, July 20!)

These programs are just a few of many innovative activities that are part of the park's effort to connect kids and nature. Fortunately the park received funding from the National Park Service Centennial Challenge initiative for the Engage Youth project. With matching donations from partners like Friends of Acadia, Acadia Partners for Science and Learning, and Eastern National, these funds will allow park staff to provide this exciting new slate of programs for kids. We hope you will take advantage of these new opportunities!

Road Trips

A statue of Evangeline at the Acadian Village, one of the many sites, museums, and historical societies in the St. John Valley. Photo by NPS/Todd M. Edgar.

Explore history and culture in two more National Park Service sites in Maine.

Saint Croix Island International Historic Site commemorates one of the earliest European settlements in North America. On the mainland, exhibits and bronze figures tell the story of the French colonists and Native Americans who once frequented this site. Restrooms and a picnic area are also available. Visits to the island are not encouraged due to its fragile nature. The site is located on Route 1, eight miles south of Calais, Maine. www.nps.gov/sacr

The culture of Maine Acadians, descendants of early French settlers, is alive and well in the St. John Valley of northern Maine. The National Park Service supports the Maine Acadian Heritage Council, an association of historical societies, cultural clubs, towns, and museums working together to preserve Acadian culture. These organizations operate a number of different cultural attractions. The St. John Valley is approximately five hours north of Bar Harbor. www.nps.gov/maac

Accessibility

The Access Guide, available at the visitor center, lists accessible facilities in the park. Accessible programs are listed on pages 4–6.

Island Explorer Shuttles

Fare-free Island Explorer buses operate throughout Mount Desert Island, linking the park to neighboring village centers. By parking your car and riding these propane-powered buses, you help reduce traffic congestion, parking, and air pollution problems on the island. Pick up a copy of the bus schedule at the visitor center. You can also flag down the bus anywhere it is safe to stop along its route. When planning your trip, remember that the Island Explorer does not service Cadillac Mountain. Service begins June 23.

Parking

During the summer, the park can be quite congested. Please drive carefully and observe posted signage. Better yet, ride the bus and relax! Parking is only permitted in designated (posted) areas, parking lots, and established roadside pullouts.

Walking and Biking

More than 45 miles of historic carriage roads are available for exploration by foot, bike, or horseback. Maps and guidebooks are available. Motorized vehicles, except motorized wheelchairs, are prohibited on carriage roads. Horses are not permitted on some sections. Bicycles are not permitted on hiking trails or private carriage roads. - 10:00 a.m. - Seawall Campground
- 7:30 p.m. - Blue Hill Overlook (weather permitting)

Size Restrictions

Vehicles taller than 11'8" cannot drive the entire Park Loop Road system. See the park map for bridge heights. Vehicles longer than 20' and trailers are not permitted on Bass Harbor Head Road or the southern end of Schooner Head Road. There is a 35' limit for trailers and vehicles in campgrounds.

Be Careful Out There!

No one ever plans to get hurt on vacation, but it does happen. Most accidents at Acadia occur while visitors are hiking, biking, exploring the shoreline, and driving. Keep these tips in mind to help ensure a safe visit to the park.

Watch your step. Be prepared: wear sturdy shoes and carry water, a map, first aid kit, and flashlight. Tell someone your plans before you go.

Keep your speed down and be prepared to stop. Road gravel can be loose, especially on curves and hills. Bicycling on the carriage roads is a major cause of visitor injuries.

Be careful while walking near cliff edges and along the shore. Loose gravel and wet rocks create dangerous footing, which can result in serious falls. Stay away from the edge.

Drive safely and wear your seatbelt. The speed limit is 35mph in the park unless otherwise noted. It's easy to get distracted by scenery—pay attention. Do not drink and drive.

Remember that your actions can make the difference between a happy memory and an unpleasant experience!

Where Am I?

This feature was built in 1926 to allow water to drain from a granite structure in the park. No cars pass over this structure, which is located among towering evergreen trees. See page 8 for an answer.

Can you identify where this granite feature is found?

Set Sail on an Ocean Adventure!

Check the program schedule on pages 4–6 for ranger-led boat cruises. These four diverse tours provide a whole new way to see the park while hearing the stories of the Maine coast. Once you get back home, visit the eCruise on the park website (www.nps.gov/acad) to recapture the spirit of your journey.

Keep Wildlife Wild

Acadia offers many opportunities for observing wildlife. During your visit you may find deer feeding in meadows, songbirds darting through forests of peeling birch trees, and raptors circling high overhead. Because of Acadia's small size and proximity to towns and residential areas, these animals often come in close contact with people. Each of us must do our part to make this contact easier, helping ensure the safety and health of wild animals. When you encounter wildlife, remember these steps:

- Never feed wild animals: This means gulls, too, no matter how persistent they are. Human food can make wildlife ill and create beggar animals that no longer retain a healthy respect of humans.
- Keep your distance: Do not approach wild animals. If you suddenly find yourself too close, back away and give them room to escape. Use binoculars to get a close-up view.
- Be careful along roads: Animals often gather near roadsides, especially at dusk and dawn. Pay close attention and lower your speed, allowing them and you a better chance to see each other and avoid an accident.
- Leash your pet: Keep your pet on a six-foot or shorter leash at all times and stay on designated trails or roads. This is for your pet's safety too!
- Store food securely: When camping, store all food, garbage, and cooking equipment in an enclosed vehicle or hard-sided locker whenever you are not present. This precaution helps prevent wild animals from being attracted to your campsite or tent.
- Respect wildlife closures: These closures protect wildlife like nesting peregrines, loons, seabirds, and eagles, which are especially sensitive to disturbance. Intrusion by humans can cause nesting attempts to fail.
- Follow the law: Remember that protecting wildlife in our national parks not only makes good sense, but also it is the law. All national parks have strict regulations concerning the protection of wildlife. When in doubt, ask a park ranger first.

Wild animals live in Acadia National Park. This is their home. Help us do what we can to make it a safer place for them to live.

Never feeding wild animals like gulls, viewing animals with binoculars to keep from getting too close, and keeping your dog on leash are all ways to protect wildlife. Photos by NPS/Todd M. Edgar.

Where Do Your Fees Go?

The majority of fees paid in Acadia stay right here. The Recreational Fee Demonstration Program, first authorized by Congress in 1996, mandates that 80 percent of fees paid in Acadia stay in the park to be used for projects that directly benefit park visitors and resources. Your fees are used for a variety of projects that improve the condition of natural and cultural resources and make the park a safer place for you to visit. Some of these recent and upcoming projects include:

- Island Explorer seasonal public transportation system
- Rehabilitate Perpendicular Trail
- Conduct fee interpretation programs

Please support these and other projects by buying a park pass at the following locations:

- Sand Beach Entrance Station
- Hulls Cove Visitor Center
- Thompson Island Visitor Center
- Park Headquarters
- Bar Harbor Village Green
- Blackwoods Campground
- Seawall Campground

All visitors who enter the park, regardless of how they enter, must pay an entrance fee. We thank you for your support!

Program Reminders

- Contact park staff regarding accessible facilities, services, and programs. Assistive listening devices for park programs are available by reservation (dial 207-288-3338 and press "0").
- Allow ample time to arrive safely at ranger-led programs.
- Do not bring pets on ranger-led programs or to amphitheaters.
- Carry water and wear appropriate clothing on hikes.
- Please escort your children on organized walks and hikes. Parents are responsible for the safety and behavior of their children. If you have young children, consider participating in children's programs, marked with an "*" in the program schedule.
- Reservations are required for most children's programs. Make reservations at Hulls Cove Visitor Center by calling 207-288-8832 or stopping by between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. (Open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. starting June 21.)

Peregrine Watch

Since 1991, Acadia has been the home of several pairs of nesting peregrine falcons, which have produced about 80 chicks. These majestic birds are a symbol of survival and triumph in Acadia and elsewhere, and an Endangered Species Act success story.

The cliffs of Champlain Mountain are home to one of Acadia's nesting pairs. Join a ranger or volunteer for Peregrine Watch, offered most days in June, weather permitting, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Precipice Trail parking area. Use viewing scopes to check out activity on the cliff, learn about field-identifying marks and behavior, and hear how you can promote the conservation of peregrine falcons.

Please be aware that the Precipice Wall, Jordan Cliffs, Valley Cove Wall, and Beech Cliffs areas are closed until the peregrine chicks mature and leave the nest (usually in late summer). See Park Closures (page 2) for specific trail closures.

Watchable Wildlife: The Mysterious Behavior of Loons

If you've ever heard the call of a loon, you won't soon forget it. Their beautiful, haunting calls and unique behaviors make common loons one of the most fascinating birds of the northern United States. Unfortunately our fascination with loons can be to their detriment.

Nesting loons are highly sensitive to disturbance; if we approach too closely, we put the lives of their chicks at risk. If the adult leaves the nest, the eggs can be exposed to unfavorable weather or predators. Fortunately loons let us know when we're too close by giving signs when they feel threatened.

The three telltale signs are the penguin dance, elongated neck tremolo vocalization, and flattened body and extended neck posture. Of these, the penguin dance is the most aggressive, as the loon appears to stand up and walk across the water, often toward the perceived threat. The extended neck and loud, quavering laugh (tremolo call) can alarm you with its haunting sound and volume. The flattened body and neck next to the ground or water may appear harmless, as if the bird is about to dive or enter the water, but it instead indicates a highly disturbed or threatened bird.

Loons may display one or all of these behaviors when they feel threatened by any intruder, including humans along the shore, in boats, or with pets. If you see any of these signs, you are too close and need to move away. From a safer distance, watch the loons with binoculars or a spotting scope. Good stewardship behaviors include:

A stress-free loon is a happy loon. Giving loons ample room helps keep them calm and healthy. Photo by NPS/Lora Haller.

- In canoes or kayaks, never approach resting, nesting, or diving loons.
- In motorized vessels, use slow speeds near shorelines and whenever your wake may disturb nests or chicks and avoid spending extended periods in quiet coves or near small vegetated islands.
- Keep pets leashed and away from loons in water.
- Avoid using lead fishing gear in lakes.

Although loons are protected by both federal and state laws, it is your help in following these guidelines that will ensure loons are forever a part of the lake and pond ecosystems of Acadia National Park.

Eastern National

The visitor center bookstore offers the largest collection of sales items in the park. Photo by NPS/Todd M. Edgar.

Volunteers

Volunteers make valuable contributions to communities, organizations, and individuals throughout the country. National Park Service (NPS) volunteers come from all over to help preserve and protect America's natural and cultural heritage for the enjoyment of this and future generations. They contribute the time and expertise that help Acadia achieve the NPS mission.

Volunteers at Acadia meet each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday through mid-October, weather permitting, from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. During that time, they perform much-needed tasks that help park staff maintain trails and carriage roads. If you are willing to cut back some vegetation or help clear a drain, call 207-288-3934 or 207-288-3340 for more information.

Annual volunteer events at Acadia include:

- National Trails Day on the first Saturday in June (06/07/08)
- Take Pride in Acadia Day on the first Saturday in November (11/01/08)
- Earth Day Roadside Cleanup on the last Saturday in April (04/26/09)

For more information about these events, visit www.friendsofacadia.org. For volunteer opportunities at other NPS sites, visit www.nps.gov/volunteer.

The Local's Perspective

Get an insider's view of the park through the works of writers, photographers, and artists who call Mount Desert Island home. You can pick up a copy of these books at the visitor center and park headquarters.

Explore images of Acadia through the eyes of painter Phyllis Rees in her book, Intimate Views. The book includes more than twenty of her extraordinary paintings designed to be, in her words, "not literal representations of the locations, but visual poems about them."

Discovering Acadia takes the reader on a journey through the park. Explore the area's geology, wildlife, history, and more through stories and beautiful photographs.

These pocket-sized books offer a glimpse into the natural history of the park. Explore popular and hidden park trails, and learn about the native species that make their homes in Acadia.

Help Us Revegetate!

In response to extensive rehabilitation at Blackwoods Campground, the park has undertaken a revegetation project to replace much of the vegetation that was lost during construction. Here's how you can help make this project a success and help restore these areas to their natural condition.

- Areas where native plants are planted will be roped off and signed to indicate what's happening there. Small trees and shrubs will be mulched with wood chips. Please don't walk through these areas or damage new or existing plants or trees.
- Stay on designated paths at Blackwoods Campground. Taking shortcuts kills plants.

Remember: Plants grow by the inch and die by the foot!

Protect Your Park: Leave No Trace

You are the park's biggest ally in protecting Acadia's vulnerable natural and cultural resources. Leave No Trace (LNT) principles can guide you down the path to protection. Leave No Trace is about attitude and ethics. It's about taking personal responsibility to respect and care for our limited wildland resources and the experiences of other outdoor enthusiasts. Once you commit to following these LNT principles, you will know you are doing your best to become a good steward of our park lands.

Plan Ahead and Prepare: Once you make a plan, learn the local regulations and be prepared for your adventure. Bring a map, food and water, and anything else you'll need. Ride the propane-powered Island Explorer shuttle bus to your destination (service begins June 23).

Travel and Camp on Durable Surfaces: Stay on trails and durable surfaces like bare granite to protect fragile plant life. Camp in designated campgrounds only. Do not swim in bodies of water marked as water supplies.

Dispose of Waste Properly: Pack it in; pack it out. Carry out anything you brought into the park. Better yet, carry out any litter you find, too!

Leave What You Find: Removing natural and historic objects like beach cobbles, flowers, marine life, and antlers not only destroys natural resources, but also is illegal. Cairns, or trail markers, are carefully maintained by the park; please do not add to or remove them.

Minimize Fire Impacts: Fires are permitted only in designated locations, such as campgrounds and picnic areas.

Respect Wildlife: Don't approach or feed wild animals; our food makes them sick. Learn more on page 3.

Be Considerate: Pay attention to others. Keep your dog on a leash, let natural sounds prevail, and limit your group size.

You can learn more about these Leave No Trace principles on the park website at www.nps.gov/acad/supportyourpark/leavenotrace.htm. Remember, we can't do it without you!

Tidepool Tips

The zone where ocean meets land—the intertidal zone—is one of the most fascinating areas in Acadia. Here you can see creatures with amazing survival skills that allow them to stay alive when, twice each day, the tide leaves them exposed. These marine organisms are not indestructible, however. Our careless handling and footsteps can do damage that the changing tides cannot. As you explore the intertidal zone, keep in mind these tips for your safety and for the protection of marine life:

- Do not wade or sit in tidepools.
- Rocks and algae are slippery. Watch your step. Use your arms to brace yourself.
- Never turn your back on the ocean: rogue waves can occur at any time.
- Wear suitable clothing and closed-toe shoes.
- Be patient. Take time to be still and watch; you'll be surprised at the activity you see.
- Sea creatures live everywhere. Be careful where you place your feet.
- If you move animals or rocks, return them to the same spot.
- Do not pry animals from rocks; you may injure them in the process.
- Recover animals you find under rocks or seaweed so they won't dry out.
- All living creatures are protected in the park. Take only pictures.

Answer to Where Am I? (page 3)

The image on page 3 shows a weep hole on Hadlock Brook Bridge. Like 16 of the 17 historic bridges along the carriage roads, this bridge was built through the efforts of John D. Rockefeller Jr. He financed the design and construction of the carriage road system between 1913 and 1940 before donating 45 miles of it to the park.

You can find the Hadlock Brook Bridge on the carriage roads between intersections 13 and 18, north of Upper Hadlock Pond.
