Paths into the Past

If all the maintained trails in Acadia National Park were placed end to end, they would stretch from Bar Harbor to Bangor and back again, with 20+ miles of trail left over. These trails connect the park to neighboring towns, travel along grassy meadows and scenic shorelines, skirt rocky cliffs, and climb granite mountains. With a long history and exceptional craftsmanship, Acadia's trail system is one of the finest in the National Park System. Today we're working to maintain the trails for future generations.

Many trails on Mount Desert Island predate the establishment of the park in 1916. Prior to European settlement, the Wabanaki transported their canoes along carry paths connecting ponds and streams with the ocean. In the late 18th and 19th centuries, European settlers created trails for subsistence activities like hunting, logging, and fishing and, later, for early tourism. These trails provided a framework for village improvement associations, whose path committees built and maintained 250 miles of hiking trails in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

To help finance some of these trails, wealthy summer residents funded memorial paths that honored—and were named for—individuals. One of these paths was built in memory of Waldron Bates, a skilled pathmaker who used stone steps, retaining walls, and other features to create “easy passage through the wonderful rock scenery that had offered in the past almost insurmountable obstacles to ordinary walkers” (Bar Harbor VIA Twentieth Annual Report, 1909). Bates also standardized the design of rock cairns to mark trails to summits; Bates cairns still line the Gorham Mountain Trail and other east-side trails.

The park's first superintendent, George B. Dorr, on the Beachcroft Path. He was a strong supporter of memorial paths.

Another skilled pathmaker, Rudolph Ernest Brunnow, focused his path-building efforts on some of the island's most rugged terrain. He designed the park's iconic Precipice Trail, as well as the Beehive Trail, using iron rungs and ladders to lead hikers up steep cliffs otherwise passable only by climbers. Brunnow's trails aren't for the faint-of-heart; with exposed routes and vertical climbs, the trails challenge even experienced hikers.

This high-quality trail work was continued in the 1930s by the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC). Based in two island camps, CCC workers maintained existing trails, built new trails, and removed trees and shrubs to improve views. You can see their exceptional work along the Ocean Path, Beech Cliff Trail, and Perpendicular Trail.

Today the park works hard to maintain the legacy of yesterday's pathbuilders. In the late 1990s, Friends of Acadia established the Acadia Trails Forever program, making Acadia the first national park with an endowed trail system. With funding from this program and the assistance of many volunteers, Acadia's trail crew ensures that you can follow in the footsteps of the Wabanaki, early settlers, and outdoor enthusiasts of another era as you explore Acadia National Park for yourself.

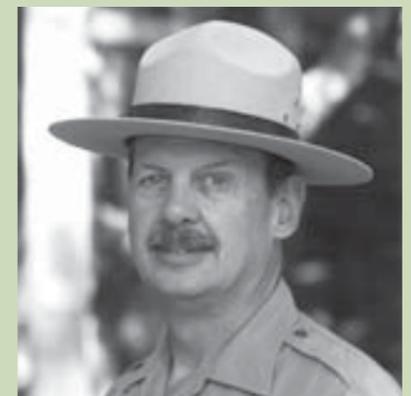

What's in a name?

Acadia's trail crew is replacing some of the signs along the trail system to return to the historic names of trails. Many original names reflect a trail's history, either honoring the person in whose memory the trail was created or reflecting its unique construction. Therefore, Dorr Mountain East Face Trail becomes Emery Path and Schiff Path; Gorge Trail becomes Gorge Path (“path” refers to a highly constructed trail, usually on the east side of the island).

Until maps catch up with this effort, trail names on your maps may be different from the names posted on trail signs. If you have any doubts, ask a park ranger for assistance.

Welcome to Acadia!

Hello, and welcome to Acadia National Park. You've chosen a great time to be here. We have lots of exciting things happening in 2009:

- Special events with Friends of Acadia include the First-Time Hiker program on National Trails Day in June and Family Fun Day in July.
- The International Year of Astronomy features programs all summer long and the Acadia Night Sky Festival in September.
- The National Parks: America's Best Idea, a new public television series that prominently features Acadia, will air in the fall.

You'll also notice a flurry of activity as we work to improve park facilities to make your visit safer and more enjoyable.

But there is more to Acadia than these activities. With its scenic location and opportunities for solitude and recreation, Acadia helps us escape. Spending time in the park's natural surroundings is good for us—physically, mentally, and emotionally. We hope you enjoy your experience at Acadia.

Accessibility

The Access Guide, available at the visitor center, lists accessible facilities in the park. Accessible programs are listed on pages 4–6.

Island Explorer Shuttles

Fare-free Island Explorer buses operate throughout Mount Desert Island, linking the park to neighboring village centers. By parking your car and riding these propane-powered buses, you help reduce traffic congestion, parking, and air pollution problems on the island. Pick up a copy of the bus schedule at the visitor center. You can also flag down the bus anywhere it is safe to stop along its route. When planning your trip, remember that the Island Explorer does not service Cadillac Mountain. Service begins June 23.

Parking

During the summer, the park can be quite congested. Please drive carefully and observe posted signage. Better yet, ride the bus and relax! Parking is only permitted in designated (posted) areas, parking lots, and established roadside pullouts.

Always carry a map on longer hikes. Photo by NPS/Todd M. Edgar.

10:00 a.m. - Seawall Campground
½ hour before sunset - Blue Hill Overlook (weather permitting)

Size Restrictions

Vehicles taller than 11'8" cannot drive the entire Park Loop Road system. See the park map for bridge heights. Vehicles longer than 20' and trailers are not permitted on Bass Harbor Head Road or the southern end of Schooner Head Road. There is a 35' limit for trailers and vehicles in campgrounds.

Be Careful Out There!

No one ever plans to get hurt on vacation, but it does happen. Most accidents at Acadia occur while visitors are hiking, biking, exploring the shoreline, and driving. Keep these tips in mind to help ensure a safe visit to the park.

Watch your step. Be prepared: wear sturdy shoes and carry water, a map, first aid kit, and flashlight. Tell someone your plans before you go.

Keep your speed down and be prepared to stop. Road gravel can be loose, especially on curves and hills. Bicycling on the carriage roads is a major cause of visitor injuries.

Be careful while walking near cliff edges and along the shore. Loose gravel and wet rocks create dangerous footing, which can result in serious falls. Stay away from the edge.

Drive safely and wear your seatbelt. The speed limit is 35mph in the park unless otherwise noted. It's easy to get distracted by scenery—pay attention. Do not drink and drive.

Remember that your actions can make the difference between a happy memory and an unpleasant experience!

Where Am I?

This marker and two others like it sit approximately 1,530 feet above sea level. Do you know where in the park you can find them?

Set Sail on an Ocean Adventure!

Check the program schedule on pages 4–6 for ranger-led boat cruises. These three diverse tours provide a whole new way to see the park while hearing the stories of the Maine coast.

Once you get back home, visit the eCruise on the park website (www.nps.gov/acad) to recapture the spirit of your journey.

Keep Wildlife Wild

Acadia offers many opportunities for observing wildlife. During your visit you may find deer feeding in meadows, songbirds darting through forests of peeling birch trees, and raptors circling high overhead. Because of Acadia's small size and proximity to towns and residential areas, these animals often come in close contact with people. Each of us must do our part to make this contact easier, helping ensure the safety and health of wild animals. When you encounter wildlife, remember these steps:

- Never feed wild animals: This means gulls, too, no matter how persistent they are. Human food can make wildlife ill and create beggar animals that no longer retain a healthy respect of humans.
- Keep your distance: Do not approach wild animals. If you find yourself too close, back away and give them room to escape. Use binoculars to get a close-up view.
- Be careful along roads: Animals often gather near roadsides, especially at dusk and dawn. Pay close attention and lower your speed, allowing them and you a better chance to see each other and avoid an accident.
- Leash your pet: Keep your pet on a six-foot or shorter leash at all times and stay on designated trails or roads. This is for your pet's safety too!
- Store food securely: When camping, store all food, garbage, and cooking equipment in an enclosed vehicle or hard-sided locker whenever you are not present. This precaution helps prevent wild animals from being attracted to your campsite or tent.
- Respect wildlife closures: These closures protect wildlife like nesting peregrines, loons, seabirds, and eagles, which are especially sensitive to disturbance. Intrusion by humans can cause nesting attempts to fail.
- Follow the law: Remember that protecting wildlife in our national parks not only makes good sense, but also it is the law. All national parks have strict regulations concerning the protection of wildlife. When in doubt, ask a park ranger first.

Wild animals live in Acadia National Park. This is their home. Help us do what we can to make it a safer place for them to live.

Protect wildlife: Don't feed wild animals, use binoculars for close-up views of wildlife, and keep your dog on a six-foot or shorter leash at all times. Photos by NPS/Todd M. Edgar.

Where Do Your Fees Go?

The majority of fees paid in Acadia stay right here. The Recreational Fee Demonstration Program, first authorized by Congress in 1996, mandates that 80 percent of fees paid in Acadia stay in the park to be used for projects that directly benefit park visitors and resources. Your fees are used for a variety of projects that improve the condition of natural and cultural resources and make the park a safer place for you to visit. Some of these recent and upcoming projects include:

- Island Explorer seasonal public transportation system
- Update Nature Center exhibits
- Construct Schooner Head Path and install signs with historic trail names

Please support these and other projects by buying a park pass at the following locations:

- Sand Beach Entrance Station
- Hulls Cove Visitor Center
- Thompson Island Visitor Center
- Park Headquarters
- Bar Harbor Village Green
- Blackwoods Campground
- Seawall Campground

All visitors who enter the park, regardless of how they enter, must pay an entrance fee. We thank you for your support!

Peregrine Watch

Since 1991, Acadia has been the home of several pairs of nesting peregrine falcons, which have produced almost 90 chicks. These majestic birds are a symbol of survival and triumph in Acadia and elsewhere, and an Endangered Species Act success story.

The cliffs of Champlain Mountain are home to one of Acadia's nesting pairs. Join a ranger or volunteer for Peregrine Watch, offered most days in June, weather permitting, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Precipice Trail parking area. Use viewing scopes to check out activity on the cliff, learn about field-identifying marks and behavior, and hear how you can promote the conservation of peregrine falcons.

Please be aware that the Precipice Wall, Valley Cove Wall, and Beech Cliffs areas are closed until the peregrine chicks mature and leave the nest (usually in late summer). Other areas may be closed; check with rangers for details. Also, see Park Closures (page 2) for specific trail and other closures during your visit.

More to See and Do in Maine

While Acadia National Park might be the best-known National Park Service site in Maine, it's not the only one. Can you name the others? Five other areas have ties to the National Park Service—Saint Croix International Historic Site, Maine Acadian Culture Preservation Project, Appalachian National Scenic Trail, Roosevelt Campobello International Park, and Allagash Wilderness Waterway. Both Saint Croix Island and Maine Acadian Culture are closely linked to Acadia National Park and offer great opportunities for exploring history and culture in Maine.

Saint Croix Island International Historic Site, located along the St. Croix River near Calais, Maine, commemorates one of the earliest European settlements in North America. In 1604, members of a French expedition led by Pierre Dugua, Sieur de Mons, settled Saint Croix Island. Seventy-nine members of the expedition, including Samuel Champlain, passed the severe winter of 1604–1605 on the island. Despite the assistance of the Passamaquoddy people, who traded game for bread, thirty-five settlers died of scurvy, malnutrition, and exposure. In summer 1605, the survivors left the island and founded the settlement of Port Royal, Nova Scotia. From Saint Croix Island—and the hard lessons learned—grew an enduring French presence on this continent.

Today you can visit Saint Croix Island International Historic Site, a 3½-hour drive from Acadia on U.S. 1. On the mainland, you will find an interpretive trail with exhibits and bronze figures that tell the story of the French colonists and Passamaquoddy who lived in the area at the time. From mid-June through mid-September, park rangers offer short talks about the history of the settlement; kids can complete the site's new Junior Ranger program. Restrooms and a picnic area are also available. Visits to the island are not encouraged due to its fragile nature. www.nps.gov/sacr

The Maine Acadian Culture Preservation Project is an effort by the National Park Service to assist in conserving the Acadian culture in northern Maine's St. John Valley. Maine Acadians trace their heritage back to descendants of early settlers of the St. John Valley in the 1780s; they are bound by ties to family, religion, land, and the French language.

The National Park Service supports the Maine Acadian Heritage Council, a non-profit organization composed of historical societies, cultural clubs, towns, and museums working together to preserve Maine Acadian culture. These organizations operate a number of different cultural attractions, which are open to visitors from mid-June to early September. At these sites you can explore Maine Acadian Culture for yourself. The St. John Valley is approximately five hours north of Bar Harbor along the St. John River, which forms the northern border between Maine and New Brunswick. www.nps.gov/maac

Support the Park

Friends of Acadia is a private, nonprofit organization dedicated to ensuring the long-term protection of the natural and cultural resources of Acadia National Park and its region. To meet this mission, Friends of Acadia channels private donations to conservation and historic preservation projects in the park, monitors planning and legislative activities affecting Acadia, and sponsors volunteer groups in Acadia.

Enhance Your Visit

Enjoy two Acadia traditions: popovers at the Jordan Pond House and horse-drawn carriage rides. Photos by NPS/Todd M. Edgar and NPS/Lauren Labrie.

Park concessions provide a variety of services to visitors throughout the National Park System. Four concessioners operate here in Acadia.

The Acadia Corporation operates shops at Cadillac Mountain, Thunder Hole, and Jordan Pond. Visit the Jordan Pond House (207-276-3316) for tea and popovers on the lawn, a tradition since the late 19th century, or a full lunch or dinner.

Carriages of Acadia, Inc. (877-276-3622), the new concessioner at Wildwood Stables, offers narrated tours of the park's historic carriage roads on horse-drawn carriages. New features this year include a longer operating season (June 6–October 18), pre-tour demonstrations with draft horses, and smaller carriages. Private tours and stabling for your personal horse are also available.

Two companies offer narrated bus tours of the park—perfect if you wish to sit back and relax as you learn. Both tours begin and end in Bar Harbor and include a stop on Cadillac Mountain, and other popular sights. Reservations recommended.

- National Park Tours (207-288-0300) offers 2½-hour tours.
- Oli's Trolley (207-288-9899) offers both 1-hour and 2½-hour tours.

Lend a Hand: Volunteer!

Volunteers make valuable contributions to communities, organizations, and individuals throughout the country. National Park Service (NPS) volunteers come from all over to help preserve and protect America's natural and cultural heritage for the enjoyment of this and future generations. They contribute the time and expertise that help Acadia achieve the NPS mission.

Volunteers at Acadia meet each Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday through mid-October, weather permitting, from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. During that time, they perform much-needed tasks that help park staff maintain trails and carriage roads. If you are willing to cut back some vegetation or help clear a drain, call 207-288-3934 or 207-288-3340 for more information.

Annual volunteer events at Acadia include:

- National Trails Day on the first Saturday in June (06/06/09)
- Take Pride in Acadia Day on the first Saturday in November (11/07/09)
- Earth Day Roadside Cleanup on the last Saturday in April (04/24/10)

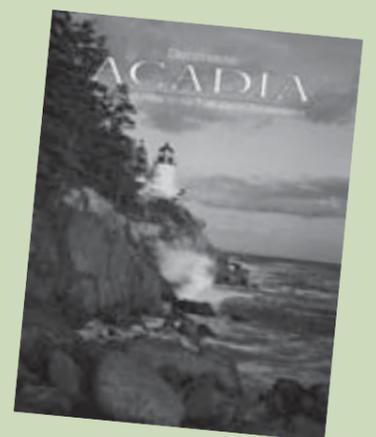

For more information about these events, visit www.friendsofacadia.org. For volunteer opportunities at other NPS sites, visit www.nps.gov/volunteer.

The Local's Perspective

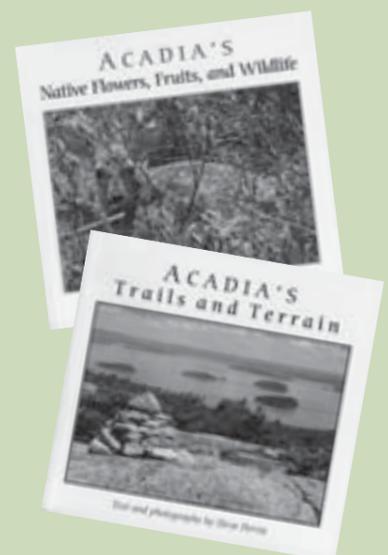

Get an insider's view of the park through the works of writers, photographers, and artists who call Mount Desert Island home. You can pick up a copy of these books at the visitor center and park headquarters.

Explore images of Acadia through the eyes of painter Phyllis Rees in her book, Intimate Views. The book includes more than twenty of her extraordinary paintings designed to be, in her words, "not literal representations of the locations, but visual poems about them."

Discovering Acadia takes the reader on a journey through the park. Explore the area's geology, wildlife, history, and more through stories and beautiful photographs.

These pocket-sized books offer a glimpse into the natural history of the park. Explore popular and hidden park trails, and learn about the native species that make their homes in Acadia.

Help Us Revegetate!

Park staff have finished replanting areas affected by recent construction at Blackwoods Campground. You have an important role to play in making this revegetation project a success.

- Areas where native plants are planted will be roped off and signed to indicate what's happening there. Small trees and shrubs will be mulched with wood chips. Please don't walk through these areas or damage new or existing plants or trees.
- Stay on designated paths at Blackwoods Campground. Taking shortcuts kills plants.

Remember: Plants grow by the inch and die by the foot!

Protect Your Park: Leave No Trace

You are the park's biggest ally in protecting Acadia's vulnerable natural and cultural resources. Leave No Trace (LNT) principles can guide you down the path to protection. Leave No Trace is about attitude and ethics. It's about taking personal responsibility to respect and care for our limited wildland resources and the experiences of other outdoor enthusiasts. Once you commit to following these LNT principles, you will know you are doing your best to become a good steward of our park lands.

Plan Ahead and Prepare: Once you make a plan, learn the local regulations and be prepared for your adventure. Bring a map, food and water, and anything else you'll need. Ride the propane-powered Island Explorer shuttle bus to your destination (service begins June 23).

Travel and Camp on Durable Surfaces: Stay on trails and durable surfaces like bare granite to protect fragile plant life. Camp in designated campgrounds only. Do not swim in bodies of water marked as water supplies.

Dispose of Waste Properly: Pack it in; pack it out. Carry out anything you brought into the park. Better yet, carry out any litter you find, too!

Leave What You Find: Removing natural and historic objects like beach cobbles, flowers, marine life, and antlers not only destroys natural resources, but also is illegal. Cairns, or trail markers, are carefully maintained by the park; please do not add to or remove them.

Minimize Fire Impacts: Fires are permitted only in designated locations, such as campgrounds and picnic areas.

Respect Wildlife: Don't approach or feed wild animals; our food makes them sick. Learn more on page 3.

Be Considerate: Pay attention to others. Keep your dog on a leash, let natural sounds prevail, and limit your group size.

You can learn more about these Leave No Trace principles on the park website at www.nps.gov/acad/supportyourpark/leavenotrace.htm. Remember, we can't do it without you!

Waste in the Environment

If you leave litter behind, how long does it take to break down? You might be surprised.

Tidepool Tips

The zone where ocean meets land—the intertidal zone—is one of the most fascinating areas in Acadia. Here you can see creatures with amazing survival skills that allow them to stay alive when, twice each day, the tide leaves them exposed. These marine organisms are not indestructible, however. Our careless handling and footsteps can do damage that the changing tides cannot. As you explore the intertidal zone, keep in mind these tips for your safety and for the protection of marine life:

- Do not wade or sit in tidepools.
- Rocks and algae are slippery. Watch your step. Use your arms to brace yourself.
- Never turn your back on the ocean: rogue waves can occur at any time.
- Wear suitable clothing and closed-toe shoes.
- Be patient. Take time to be still and watch; you'll be surprised at the activity you see.
- Sea creatures live everywhere. Be careful where you place your feet.
- If you move animals or rocks, return them to the same spot.
- Do not pry animals from rocks; you may injure them in the process.
- Recover animals you find under rocks or seaweed so they won't dry out.
- All living creatures are protected in the park. Take only pictures.

Answer to Where Am I? (page 3)

At 1,530 feet, Cadillac Mountain is the tallest mountain on the eastern coast of the United States. These survey markers were placed by the U.S. Geologic Survey and its predecessors to mark the summit of Cadillac Mountain. The earliest was placed in 1856; the most recent in 1975. Only one marker is at the true summit, found behind the Cadillac Summit Center.

If you explore off the trail, make sure you stay on durable bedrock surfaces to protect fragile summit plants.
