

Mesa de Anguila Trailhead

Revised 11/2004

Remote and isolated from the rest of Big Bend National Park, the Mesa de Anguila offers well-prepared backpackers opportunities for solitude and tremendous views.

The Mesa de Anguila trailhead can be accessed from Highway 170 by turning south at the stables and following the road to the parking area. Do not park inside the gates of Golf Maintenance. From the parking area the trail is well marked to the park boundary. Follow the trail through the field where you will come up to a fence with steps over it. Here is where you will find the trailhead to the “saddle”.

Backcountry permits are required for all overnight hiking on the Mesa de Anguila.
