

Sundew Trail

The Sundew Trail is a great place to see birds and wildflowers. Both the inner and outer loops pass through a small bog that supports pitcher plants and sundews, two carnivorous plant species. The inner loop continues through a savannah with abundant summer wildflowers while the outer loop winds through a woodland of longleaf pines.