his list of the approximately 115 most common native birds of Casa Grande Ruins National Monument is based on previous documentation of abundance (A). The list is separated into five categories. Abundant (A) birds are likely to be seen daily and in large numbers. Common (C) birds may be seen daily as a solitary bird or in smaller groups. Uncommon (U) birds are likely to be seen on a monthly basis. Rare (R) birds occur in the park a few times a year. Occasional (O) birds may occur in the park just once every few years.

Casa Grande Ruins National Monument is a relatively homogenous desert landscape containing vegetation such as mesquite, saltbush, and annual plants. Many of the plants are affected by human interactions with the landscape, such as watering and surrounding agriculture and residential development. With these alterations, the local area has become prime habitat for non-native birds as well as the natives noted on this list.

Arizona's diverse environment provides vital habitats for birds across the seasons (S). Birds that do not migrate are considered Year-round (Y) residents and can be seen at any time of year. Summer (S) residents are at the park roughly during June–August. Winter (W) residents occur during colder times of year. Migratory (M) birds may be seen at various times as they briefly pass through the monument on their way to other habitats.

The information in this list is based on bird observations, inventories, and surveys at Casa Grande Ruins National Monument. However, bird lists are always works in progress. The list is arranged by family, with common names following the American Ornithologists' Union's Check-list of North American Birds, 7th edition, and its supplements to 2013.
