Tuning Into Summer

The fiery draw of bow over fiddle. The haunting howl of a coyote. The persistent trilling of tree frogs. In the Cuyahoga Valley, warm summer breezes blend and carry the songs of people and wildlife. Won't you tune in?

On select Wednesday evenings, the popular Music in the Meadow series returns (see page 8). Spread out your picnic blanket, lie back, and let your ears feast. These free outdoor concerts feature some of Ohio's best musicians. Sounds of reggae rhythms, Celtic reels, and Americana ballads mix with the laughter of kids playing tag, the shuffle of smiling dancers, and the hum of cicadas.

Music by Nature concerts (page 9) bring rustic Happy Days Lodge to life with diverse harmonies. Intimate ensembles play Russian gypsy songs, unique brass combinations, and vintage jazz. The hottest ticket is for Sunday, August 4, when celebrated singer Helen Welch brings her sizzle to our stage. Want to hear some valley vocalists? Cap off your evening with a causal towpath stroll to hear frogs serenade at Beaver Marsh.

The Countryside Farmers' Markets and several Countryside Initiative Farms also offer live music (see pages 2 and 11). Enjoy the pickin' while you pick up succulent bites of local food or a glass of local wine. There are many opportunities to feed the soul.

You don't have to choose between blues ballads or a songbird chorus—the Cuyahoga Valley has it all. Come give us a listen!

3 - 5 Hiking & Recreation

Try Early Evening Hikes, Sunday Fun Days, outdoor yoga, camping, and Canalway Questing.

11 Countryside Conservancy

Visit a Countryside Initiative farm to buy fresh produce, enjoy music, and dine on local foods.

14 - 15 For Kids

Become a Junior Ranger, attend summer camp, and celebrate National Get Outdoors Day.
