

DEATH VALLEY NATIONAL MONUMENT
DEATH VALLEY, CALIFORNIA 92320
73 YEAR AVERAGE

Monthly averages of temperatures (degrees) F and rain (inches). Temperature taken at Furnace Creek. Temperatures at higher elevations will be 3-5 degrees cooler for every 1,000 vertical feet; precipitation higher. All official temperatures taken in the shade.

MONTH	AVERAGE	AVG. MAX	AVE. MIN	HIGHEST	LOWEST	RAIN
January	52.0	64.9	39.2	87	15	0.25
February	59.6	73.0	46.2	91	27	0.33
March	67.2	80.6	53.9	101	30	0.18
April	74.9	88.3	61.5	111	35	0.11
May	85.5	99.6	71.5	120	42	0.05
June	95.5	109.5	81.4	125	49	0.01
July	102.2	116.0	88.3	134	52	0.11
August	99.4	113.4	85.5	126	65	0.06
September	91.8	105.9	80.6	120	41	0.10
October	76.5	91.2	61.7	113	32	0.11
November	61.8	75.4	48.3	97	24	0.19
December	53.1	65.9	40.0	86	19	0.19
=====
ANNUAL	78.9	92.6	58.8	134	15	1.91
=====

In 1913 there was 4.54 inches of rain recorded; the maximum temperature was 134 degrees F., and the minimum temperature was 15 degrees F.

The longest period of having over 100 degrees F maximum was for 134 days in the summer of 1974.

The highest ground temperature recorded was 210 degrees F. at Furnace Creek on July 15, 1972. The maximum air temperature for that day was 128 degrees F.

=====

Data on weather was compiled from the monuments daily records, and the National Weather Service summaries for the years 1911 through 1984 for Death Valley Calif.