Blue Mountain Lakes NJ

Blue Mountain Lakes has approximately 10 miles of pulverized stone trails for crosscountry skiing, from a relatively easy inner loop to a scenic and varied 5-mile loop to Hemlock Pond. Hiking is also permitted on these trails. Mountain biking is NO LONGER permitted at this site.

Blue Mt. Lakes is located along Blue Mt. Lake (Flatbrook-Stillwater) Road NJ. The beginning of Blue Mt. Lakes Road is at Old Mine Road, 2 miles north of Millbrook Village, and 11 miles south of Peters Valley NPS 615 to the Flat Brook Bridge, the Old Mine Road. Note that vehicles can only enter this road from the west, along Old Mine Road within the recreation area. Vehicles can NOT reach Blue Mountain Lakes directly from Stillwater NJ to the east.

With the first heavy snowfall in winter, Blue Mt. Lakes Road is usually gated and closed to vehicles just past the Blue Mt. Lakes parking lot. This enables skiers to use Blue Mt. Lakes Road (1-1/2 miles, ascends about 100 ft.) to Skyline Drive, and to ski Skyline Drive (1-3/4 miles, level) to the Crater Lake Access Road, as well as to reach the Pool Colony on skis. Skyline Drive is a level dirt road and Crater Lake Access Road (about 1 mile) is a rough unpaved road with some hills. A detailed topographical or hiking map and a compass are recommended.

McDade Recreational Trail PA (Separate bulletin)

Crosscountry skiers may use three segments of this 37-mile trail: 2.7 miles with a steep uphill from Milford Beach south to Pittman Orchard on Rt. 209 (milepost 18.5), 10.2 flat downhill miles from White Pines Trailhead on Route 209 (milepost 13.5) south to Eshback Trailhead off Route 209 (milepost 6.4), and 5 mostly flat miles along River Road north from Hialeah Picnic Area (2 miles north of Shawnee PA) to Turn Farm Trailhead (1.1 miles south of park headquarters).
