Bugle Calls (The Schedule)

The post commander held a wide range of authority in the conduct of the garrison. The daily schedule of bugle calls was one of his tools to regulate the activities of soldiers. Although the schedule would vary from season to season, the routine generally did not. The result was a regimented lifestyle that centered around the bugle call as a measure of time.

This schedule of calls is extracted from schedules used at Fort Union during its time of operation. The bugle calls are presented to help visitors envision Fort Union as an active military post. Differences between the historic army time schedule and this time schedule are noted in the description of the bugle calls. Some of the early and later bugle calls are played in a modern time context to correspond with current park hours.

8:15 Assembly of Trumpeters The first signal for soldiers to awake from their blissful slumber; this call historically sounded between 4:45 a.m. and 6:00 a.m., depending on the season.  8:20 Reveille Upon the last note of this call, the flag was raised, the morning gun was fired, and all men were out of their bunks and getting dressed for morning roll call.  8:25 Assembly The men stood in formation outside their barracks for morning roll call.  8:30 Stable Call Soldiers in the cavalry put on their white canvas stable clothing and reported to the stables to feed and groom their mounts. This was historically done right after morning roll call, about 6:15 a.m.  8:45 Water Call Cavalry troopers watered their horses.  9:00 Mess Call Breakfast usually consisted of bread and bacon, mush and molasses, or pancakes, and plenty of hot, black coffee. This signal ordinarily sounded between 6:30 a.m. and 7:00 a.m.  9:30 Fatigue Call Those soldiers assigned to a morning work party reported to their assignments for fresh air and physical exercise. Typical work details included building repair and construction, cleanup of the post grounds, gardening, cutting firewood, and hauling water.  9:40 Sick Call Soldiers who were ill reported to the hospital dispensary for examination by the surgeon. Those who were truly sick were excused from work for the day. Army surgeons were always watchful for malingerers- those who faked sickness to escape work.  10:00 Assembly of Trumpeters; Dress Guard Mounting The first signal roticall, the flag was raised, the morning dot detail.
