

Day Hikes

For your safety

- This is bear country. Make bears aware of your presence and avoid surprising them by making loud noises like shouting or singing.
- Carry drinking water.
- Be prepared for rapid weather changes; bring rain gear and extra clothing.
- High elevation may cause breathing difficulties; pace yourself.
- Snow melts gradually, leaving valley trails by mid-June, canyon trails by late July. Be careful crossing snowfields and streams.
- Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return.
- Solo hiking and off-trail hiking is not recommended.
- Check with a ranger for up-to-date information on trail conditions.

Parking tips

During July and August trailhead parking areas fill early in the day, especially at South Jenny Lake, String Lake, Lupine Meadows, Death Canyon, and Granite Canyon. Parking on natural vegetation results in permanent damage to plants. Please obey posted parking regulations. An early start for your hike will avoid parking problems.

Backcountry Regulations

- Respect wildlife: Do not approach or feed animals. Observe and photograph from a safe distance.
- All overnight camping requires a permit.
- Carry out all your garbage.
- Hike on established trails to prevent erosion.
- Horses have the right-of-way. Step off the trail and remain quiet while horses pass.
- Pets, weapons, bicycles, or vehicles are not allowed on trails or in the backcountry.
- Backcountry sanitation: To prevent contamination of waterways, bury feces in a hole 6-8 inches deep at least 200 feet from streams and lakes. Pack out used toilet paper, tampons, sanitary napkins, and diapers in sealed plastic bags. Do not bury or burn them.
