Harpers Ferry Center

HFC Editorial Style Guide

July 2013

Harpers Ferry Center (HFC) uses this style guide when preparing Unigrid brochures, waysides, exhibits, and other media. It supplements our primary style guide, The Chicago Manual of Style. The HFC guide includes terms and phrases specific to National Park System areas and decisions about recurring and commonly asked questions.

Entries that are new or revised since 2011 are preceded by a bullet:

- angler

About editing

If you produce NPS publications, remember your audience is usually the general public—not colleagues, scholars, historians, scientists, or bureaucrats. Keep language and sentence structure simple. Apply the principles of Plain Language (www.plainlanguage.gov), which are designed to make all government publications more understandable to everyone.

Examples of simple changes that make a big difference:

hours	not current hours, hours of operation
many	not numerous get	not obtain at	not located at

About editorial style

The English language and editorial style evolve. Do not rely on what you learned in school; check current word usage, grammatical trends, and spelling.

For questions of editorial style, we recommend this decision hierarchy:

1. HFC Editorial Style Guide
2. The Chicago Manual of Style
3. Associated Press Stylebook
4. GPO Style Manual

Use The American Heritage Dictionary for spelling.

If something isn't settled by these references, we discuss it and add our decision to HFC Editorial Style Guide. We welcome your questions; please send them to hfc_editorial_style_guide@nps.gov

We recommend that you develop a style guide for your work. We recognize that park staff might disagree with HFC or the other recommended references. Add these points to your style guide. It will become a valued reference for you and your colleagues.

Recommended references follow.

a or an Choosing a or an depends on the sound of the word it precedes—not how the word is spelled. Use a before words beginning with a consonant sound, including y and w, no matter how the word is spelled. Use an before words beginning with a vowel sound.

a National Park Service regulation	an NPS regulation
a historic site	an X-File episode
a historic moment	an honor
a hysterical patient	an heir
a hoary marmot	an honest mistake abandoned Avoid when writing about American Indian dwellings. See ruin.

access Avoid as a verb for “reach” or “get to” (word is too similar to accessible).

You can get to Prince William Forest Park from the south via I-95.

accessibility Most new or revised Unigrid brochures include an accessibility statement. See service animals; see also HFC Accessibility Guidelines.

We strive to make our facilities, services, and programs accessible to all. For information go to a visitor center, ask a ranger, call, or check our website.

accessible Use this adjective when referring to facilities, trails, campsites, (and more) that can be used by people using wheelchairs. Do not use when giving directions. See disabled, hearing loss.

The national seashore has accessible shelters for waterfowl hunters in wheelchairs.

• acknowledgment Not acknowledgement.

acronym An acronym refers to a single, pronounceable word formed from the initial letters of a series of words from a name, title, or long term. North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO. Acquired immune deficiency syndrome—AIDS. See alpha code, initialism, NPS.

Act, act of Congress

Adding these properties will require an act of Congress.
but The Wilderness Act was signed into law in September 1964.

A.D. Avoid this religious reference. Use CE (common era) instead. See CE, eras.

addresses Spell out street, road, way, and avenue in running text; abbreviate in a stacked address (each item on a separate line). Whenever possible, place address (and phone number) at end of paragraph. Write NW, SW, NE, SE. See state names.

20120 Cypress Ave.
The White House is on Pennsylvania Avenue.
16th Street NW

administrative statement format See National Park Service identity statement.

African American No hyphen. In text, first use “African American.” OK to use “black” thereafter.

African Americans traveled north on the Underground Railroad.
the African American soldier Maggie L. Walker was a leader in the African American community in the early 1900s and the first black to charter a bank.

agencywide

• Air Force One Describes any aircraft carrying the US president, including helicopters. Italicize.

alpha code The four-letter code for a park.

am No periods, small letters (no capitals); style guides differ. See time of day.

America Use sparingly as a synonym for the United States of America; consider context.

America the Beautiful National Parks and Federal Recreational Lands Pass

See National Parks and Federal Recreational Lands Pass.

American Use sparingly to describe people who live in the United States.

American Indian Use specific tribal name(s) whenever possible, accurate, and appropriate. Use singular noun: Navajo, Lakota, Tlingit. Or use American Indian. Native American is ambiguous and least desirable of alternatives; but some tribes prefer Native American—use the preference of area groups. See also First Nation.

The Navajo entered Canyon de Chelly about 300 years ago.

The Anishinaabek fished in Lake Superior.

American Revolution affiliations Lowercase patriot, loyalist, regulars, or tory (unless capitalized in quoted material). Capitalize Whig and Tory as members of political parties; Continental Army troops; Provincial regiments; British Army. Experts disagree about capitalization of American Revolutionary War terms; use park staff's preference.

Anasazi Avoid, or clarify at first mention, but use the preference of specific groups or parks. See ancestral Puebloan people.

These ancestral Puebloan people, often called Anasazi, used ladders made of ponderosa pine to reach the canyon's ledges.

ancestral Puebloan people Predecessors of today's Pueblo and Hopi people; avoid Anasazi.

• angler A person who fishes with hook and line. Avoid fisherman. See fisher.

Anglo Traditionally it referred to white English-speaking Americans. In contemporary American usage, especially in the Southwest, it means anyone who is not Hispanic or Latino.

Anglos named the place Aztec.

app Lowercase unless part of a proper name like iTunes App Store. See iPhone, smartphone.

Use the NPS National Mall app to learn about memorials in our Nation's Capital.

archeology Not archaeology.

• arms (small) Firearms that can be carried in the hand, like muskets, pistols, rifles, carbines, and shotguns. See artillery. Remember your audience: The average person may not know this term, so explain or name the weapon if you can.

Army, army Capitalize when referring to an official, organized group and if it is part of a proper name; lowercase if used as a generic term.

Geronimo resisted the US Army for 16 years.

Fearing that the Chiricahua Apache leader would escape again, the federal government ordered army scouts to stand 24-hour watch.

The Army of the Cumberland was one of the principal Union forces.

• artillery Large-caliber weapons like cannon, howitzers, and missile launchers, usually supported on a carriage and operated by crews. Remember your audience: The average person may not know this term, so explain or name the weapon if you can. See arms (small).

The Napoleon 12-pounder cannon was a popular artillery piece in the Union and Confederate armies.

ATV All-terrain vehicle; no need to spell out.

• audiovisual, AV Avoid. See film, movie, program.

backcountrybald cypress

B.C. Avoid this religious reference; use BCE instead. See BCE, eras.

BCE Before common era; replaces B.C. Clarify at first mention. See also CE (common era), dates, eras.

biannual, biennial Biannual means twice a year (like semiannual). Biennial means every two years.

• big game Do not use. Say wildlife, animals, or be specific. See game.

biological soil crust Formerly called cryptobiotic crust. For details visit www.soilcrust.org

The biological soil crust at Arches National Park is alive, but it won't bite you.

• Biosphere Reserve or International Biosphere Reserve. Capitalize this United Nations designation for areas that belong to an international network of reserves. See also World Heritage Site.

Mammoth Cave National Park, part of a major ecosystem that protects the diversity of life, was named an International Biosphere Reserve in 1990.

birch bark Two words if a noun; one word if an adjective.

You can see a birchbark storage basket at Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. Ojibwa taught French explorers how to build canoes from birch bark.

birder, birding Not birdwatcher or birdwatching.

Gateway National Recreation Area is a popular spot for birding, especially during the spring and fall migrations.

bison Commonly called buffalo. If writing bison, clarify at first mention.

Bison, commonly called buffalo, graze on this prairie.

black See African American.

black-eyed Susan boat launch Preferred over boat ramp (ramps are paved; boat launches include paved and unpaved entrances). Be consistent with park signage.

boundary, boundaries A park may have one boundary or many boundaries. A boundary encloses a single, contiguous area. Boundaries enclose park areas that are not connected to each other; they may be separated by towns, sea channels, even states.

Today you can trace the paths of people seeking gold within the boundaries of Klondike Gold Rush National Historic Park.

The California condor is just one of the endangered species that is protected within the park boundary.

• BP Before the present. Used in scholarly works. Avoid but spell out at first use. See BCE, CE, eras.

ca. Avoid writing “ca.” or “circa” in running text—rewrite or use “about”—but use abbreviation in short caption or credit lines.

The pearlware bowl found at Ninety Six National Historic Site dates to about 1810. Clara Barton ca. 1856; photo by Mathew Brady (left).

cacti Plural of cactus.

- campsite

campstove

Canada goose Not Canadian goose.

cannon Cannon can be both singular and plural (same word, no s). Cannons is correct but used less often. Be consistent; use local preference. See artillery.

Many of the fort's cannon were the type used on ships.

capital, capitol Spelled with an a—the city where a seat of government is located; do not capitalize except when referring to the Nation's Capital. Spelled with an o—the building where the business of government takes place. Capitalize when referring to the US Capitol in Washington, DC.

Annapolis is the capital of Maryland.

The Virginia capitol is in Richmond.

Washington, DC, is the Nation's Capital.

They stood on the steps of the US Capitol.

Capital Beltway but beltway capitalization Avoid unnecessary capitals. Animal and plant names are lowercase unless they contain a proper name. Nouns are capitalized if part of a formal name, lowercase if they stand alone. If a term is plural following more than one proper name, it is lowercase (style guides differ). See geographic regions, specific words. For Spanish words, consult the HFC Spanish Editorial Style Guide and The Chicago Manual of Style.

Douglas fir, Kentucky warbler sea otter, great blue heron

. . . the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers

These dwellings were built about 950 CE (Common Era).

century Use actual dates—the 1500s not the 16th century. The latter requires mental translation for many people.

On to California! Since the mid-1800s the West had held out the promise of gold and boundless opportunity.

not Since the mid-19th century the West had held out the promise . . .

chief justice Lowercase unless used before a proper name.

William Howard Taft, 27th US president, later became the 10th chief justice of the United States, the only person to have served in both offices.

chronology or timeline format Capitalize first word and end with period—even if entry is a sentence fragment. Write in present tense. Abbreviate words and eliminate articles when possible without introducing confusion.

1882 Born January 30, Hyde Park, NY.

1883 Organizes black student school strike, the first such response in the United States to unequal treatment.

circa Avoid. See ca.

civil rights movement

The Selma to Montgomery march in 1965 was a climactic event of the modern civil rights movement.

Civil War terminology

Confederacy

George Meade finally launched an offensive that marked the beginning of the end of the Confederacy.

Confederates—members of the Confederate army.

For the Confederates, the triumph helped establish Lee and his army as the Confederacy's greatest hope for ultimate victory.

Federals—members of the Union army.

North—use sparingly in referring to the US government during the Civil War, use Union or Federal government.

South—use sparingly in referring to the 11 states that seceded; use Confederate States of America (formal name) or the Confederacy.

Yankee—do not use as a synonym for Union soldiers; avoid except in quoted material.

Unionist—do not use as a synonym for Union soldiers; avoid except in quoted material.

Rebel—do not use as a synonym for Confederate; avoid except in quoted material.

See federal, Confederate States of America, CSA.

The 54th Massachusetts Infantry was a famous African American regiment in the Union Army.

Cold War

colon A colon introduces something closely related to the sentence preceding the colon. Use sparingly. Use a full sentence before the colon. Capitalize the first word of a sentence following a colon; do not capitalize the first word of a list following a colon.

Make bread with these ingredients: flour, water, salt, sugar, and yeast.

not The ingredients you use to make bread are: flour, water, salt, sugar, and yeast.

The president promised results: “My new program, the War on Poverty, will help families in America.”

commander in chief No hyphens. Lowercase unless used before a proper name.

commas Separate three or more items with commas. Use a comma before a conjunction that joins two independent clauses (and, but, or, as). Unless needed for clarity, omit comma after short introductory phrases.

Our dessert choices are pie, cake, and ice cream.

Alfred lost the car keys, and the family is helping him search every cranny.

Around him the rolling hills and woods of the battlefield sprawl for miles.

compass directions Lowercase; capitalize only specific geographic regions, but try to limit capitals. See east, north, south, west, geographic regions.

• compound words The trend is to eliminate hyphens once a compound word is in common use. Generally, follow The American Heritage Dictionary. See over 24 individual entries in this guide and compound words as modifiers.

• compound words as modifiers Use a hyphen when combining two or more words to modify a noun, except when the first word ends in ly.

rust-resistant alloy but federally funded project

When two or more hyphenated compounds have a common basic element, retain all the hyphens.

4- to 5-ton trucks

8-, 10-, and 16-foot boards

moss- and ivy-covered walls

concessioner

Confederate See Civil War terminology.

• Confederate States of America Spell out at first use, OK to use “Confederacy” thereafter. Avoid CSA as an abbreviation; it more commonly means Confederate States Army. See CSA.

Congressional Medal of Honor See Medal of Honor.

convince that But persuade to.

• copyright Government publications are subject to copyright. Copyright usage has precise, legal regulations. Don’t assume anything. Learn the basics at US Copyright Office website at www.copyright.gov; consult Intellectual Property Rights for Harpers Ferry Center. See credit lines.

cougar Preferred; also mountain lion, panther, puma.

• credit lines in publications HFC credits images used in Unigrid brochures and other publications. All caps, small size, simple style. See copyright. Credits usually take one of these forms:

1. Creator of photo or artwork retains all rights:

© KATHLEEN NORRIS COOK

2. Owner retains all rights:

© THE GRANGER COLLECTION

3. Stock house supplied photo:

© iStock / LAURENCE PARENT or iSTOCK / © LAURENCE PARENT

4. NPS commissioned photo or artwork but creator retains all rights:

NPS / © LOUIS GLANZMAN

5. NPS commissioned photo or artwork and owns all rights:

NPS / KEITH ROCCO

6. NPS employee made it as part of their duties:

NPS / MARK MUSE

7. NPS employee takes a photo or creates art on their own time with their own equipment:

© MARK MUSE

8. NPS owns photo or artwork, which is in its collection, but original maker is unknown:

NPS

9. Institution allows use of a photo or artwork that they own:

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Note: If artist or photographer is of historical importance, use the name in the caption (preferred) or in credit.

Edward Curtis photographed these Navajo riding east into Canyon de Chelly in 1904. [credit would read NATIONAL ARCHIVES]

NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY / GEORGE HAYWARD [no caption]

10. Someone other than the creator owns the photograph or artwork and donates the use of the image:

COURTESY BOB SLEDD

11. Multiple credits. Separate descriptor and credit with an en dash; separate credits with semi-colon.

BALD EAGLE–NPS; NAVAJO RUG–© LAURENCE PARENT; PORTRAIT–SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

CONGRESS

• credit lines in waysides and other exhibits The park and the exhibit designer should decide where to place credits—with each image or together in a separate acknowledgment panel or notebook. Follow the style for brochures, above.

1. When the credits are on the exhibit to fulfill a requirement of the image’s use rights license and it has no other interpretive value, use a font size smaller than the smallest interpretive text.
2. If the credit includes other information or has interpretive value (e.g. crediting a famous photographer), treat it more like a caption.
3. If the credits are placed on a separate acknowledgment panel, the font should be at least as large as the smallest interpretive text. They also should be repeated in a credit notebook containing details about the images, which is available at the information desk.

• crosscountry

cryptobiotic crust See biological soil crust.

• CSA Confederate States Army; most commonly used after a person’s name. Avoid using as an abbreviation for Confederate States of America. See Confederate States of America

Lt. Gen. John Bell Hood, CSA, had a reputation for bravery and aggressiveness.

• Dall sheep Preferred; Dall’s sheep: variant.

dashes

1. Em dash—Longer than en dash or hyphen, often called simply “the dash.” Indicates a sudden change in thought or adds emphasis. No space before or after the em dash.

Kings Mountain—named for an early settler and not for King George III—is a rocky spur of the Blue Ridge.

2. En dash—Longer than a hyphen and shorter than an em dash. Means “to,” “up to and including,” or “through.” There is no space before or after the en dash.

1924–2005 but 1924–25

8 am–5 pm

pp. 38–45

Note: Watch parallel construction; don’t mix and match written words and the en dash.

The visitor center is closed from October 15 to April 1.

or The visitor center is closed October 15–April 1.

not The visitor center is closed from October 15–April 1.

You may rent canoes between 9 am and 2 pm.

or You may rent canoes 9 am–2 pm.

not You may rent canoes between 9 am–2 pm.

but The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 71–29.

dates Write dates in this order: month, day, year. Use a comma before and after the year in sentences with full dates. No comma if using only month and year in a sentence. Do not use an apostrophe to indicate plural dates. See BCE, CE, century, eras.

On December 7, 1941, Japanese bombers struck Pearl Harbor.

Five companies garrisoned Fort Sumter in June 1863.

1900s not 1900’s

1950s and 1960s not 1950’s and ‘60’s

spirit of ‘76

• daylight saving time Not daylight savings time.

The Navajo Reservation observes daylight saving time, but the rest of Arizona does not.

day use If a noun; day-use if an adjective.

degree See temperature.

departmentwide

- Depression See Great Depression.

directions to reader Put in parentheses and italicize entire item, including parentheses, but if text is set in italics, put direction in roman.

The core of L'Enfant's 1791 plan is the triangle created by the Capitol, the White House, and the Mall (see map above).

The coat of the American black bear can be black, brown, or auburn (left).

disabled Put the person before the disability; write persons or people with disabilities. Do not write handicapped. See hearing loss. More information in the HFC Accessibility Guidelines and at www.disability.gov.

The Longstocking Trail is wheelchair-accessible.

The C&O Canal National Historical Park has audio and video programs and large-print brochures for people with disabilities.

discover (of territory), discoverers Avoid in reference to lands already populated; rewrite in a way that includes multiple points of view. Explore, chart, venture, scout, are acceptable synonyms.

- Douglas fir, Douglas-fir The hyphenated word is scientifically accurate because the species is not a true fir, but the unhyphenated name is more commonly used.

during Use “in” rather than “during,” if possible. It's shorter.

Earth, earth Earth is our planet; earth is soil or dirt.

east, eastern Lowercase compass directions; minimize use of capital letters except for specific regions or popular place names. Eastern Shore of Maryland; East Coast. See geographic regions.

ellipsis The omission of a word, phrase, line, paragraph, or more from a quoted passage is indicated by ellipsis dots (also called periods or points). Ellipsis dots must always appear together on the same line.

1. Ellipsis in the same sentence: Use three evenly spaced dots to indicate deleted material within the same sentence. Writers following The Chicago Manual of Style will take the time to produce the ellipsis manually. Write space–dot–space –dot–space –dot–space. Note: There is no period within the following sentence.

“If a stop cannot be put to these massacres, the country will be depopulated . . . as neither Whig nor Tory can live.” Nathanael Greene, 1780

2. Ellipsis within a paragraph: Paragraphs include sentences with punctuation marks like periods or question marks, but the three dots must still be spaced evenly (after or before those punctuation marks). If sentence ends with a period, question mark, or exclamation mark, use it (to avoid ambiguity) and then three dots. Here is a condensation of President Nixon's resignation speech using regular punctuation marks (periods at the end of sentences) and three dots to show omissions:

“In all the decisions I have made in my public life, I . . . tried to do what was best for the nation. . . . I have never been a quitter. . . . But as President, I must put the interest of America first. . . . Therefore, I shall resign the presidency effective at noon tomorrow.” Richard Nixon, August 8, 1974

email addresses Do not use capital letters unless address is case-sensitive mobydick@ocean.edu em dash, en dash See dashes, hyphens.

- emergency statement Bold, no colon, no period.

Emergencies call 911

en route

enslaved Not slave. Enslaved acknowledges the dignity of a human being; slave is a non-person, property. Park staffs disagree on usage; use park staff's preference. See slave, slavery, slaveholder.

1619 Twenty Africans are sold into servitude in Jamestown, Virginia.

1857 Supreme Court's Dred Scott v. Sandford decision. Judge Taney writes that an enslaved person is property and that only whites are US citizens.

Institutional slavery includes branding of the enslaved.

ensure, insure Ensure means to make certain; insure means to provide for insurance.

Careful planning can help ensure an enjoyable crosscountry hike.

The policy insures her life.

eras Write BCE (before common era) and CE (common era). Do not write B.C. or A.D. BP (before present) is a term found in scholarly works. See BCE, CE, eras.

The first people to settle permanently in the Tonto Basin arrived between 100 and 600 CE.

European American Not Euro-Americans. Be specific when possible.

Sir Francis Drake, English mariner.

Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, Portuguese explorer.

French missionaries and settlers from the East Coast.

European Americans began mining explorers Refers to people venturing into territory unknown to them. Avoid “discoverers” unless that is truly the case. In certain cases, the term “travelers” may be appropriate. See discoverers.

farther, further Farther refers to physical distance, further to an extension of time or quantity.

Lydia walked farther than Mark along Cumberland Island's shore.

Thomas will look further into the disappearance of the office laptop.

federal, Federal

1. Lower case: federal government, federal law, federal property, federal funds.
2. Capitalize:
 - in Civil War context (Federal soldier, Federal forces, Federal fort, Federal government)
 - the architectural style (Federal-style architecture of the late 1700s)
 - when part of a name (Federal Express, the Federal Trade Commission)

Federalist Federalist Party; Federalist Papers.

fewer, less In general use fewer for numbers or individual items that can be counted; less for quantity and bulk.

Fewer birds came to the feeder because Yuriko put out less food.

• film Interchangeable with movie. Avoid audiovisual, presentation. See program.

firearms regulations Most Unigrid brochures now include this statement about firearms because federal, state, and local laws apply and can vary.

For firearms regulations check the park website.

firepitfirewood

First Lady Michelle Obama spoke to the press today.
Lou Hoover was first lady.

First Nation, First Nations Refers to the Aboriginal people in Canada who are neither Inuit (people of the Canadian Arctic) nor Métis (descendants of First Nation people who married Europeans). It is commonly used in the plural in the collective sense, as in a program for First Nations youth. The term is widely accepted by the Canadian government. The term is not used in the United States, except in connection with Métis whose homelands include northwest Minnesota, North Dakota, or other northern states. See also American Indian.

fish, fishes Fish (no es) can be singular or plural. Fishes (plural) is correct but used less often; it usually refers to more than one species.

We went fishing for brook trout and caught six fish. (Single species.)
Ichthyology is the study of fishes. (Many species.)
The Smithsonian Institution's fish collection, about four million specimens, is the largest in the world.

• fisher Acceptable replacement for “fisherman” or reword to say what and how people are taking fish. See angler.

We went net-fishing for salmon.
Tribes on the Columbia River caught salmon with nets.
Those people are trawling for shrimp.

• fisherman Avoid. See fisher, angler.

flash flood

footwear, footgear

foreign words Italicize unfamiliar foreign words or phrases; do not italicize familiar foreign words and phrases; enclose translation in quotes or parentheses, depending on context. See The American Heritage Dictionary and The Chicago Manual of Style.

She always had a c'est la vie attitude.
The word she wanted was pêcher (to sin) not pêcher (to fish).
The Kansas state motto is ad astra per aspera, commonly translated “a rough road leads to the stars.”

Forest Service Forest Service, US Dept. of Agriculture; established in 1905. The abbreviations USDA-FS and USFS are controversial because of historical usage but it is important to distinguish the federal agency from state forest agencies. HFC generally uses Forest Service or specific forest names.

Campgrounds are in Mount Baker National Forest.
The visitor center in Escalante, Utah, houses National Park Service, Forest Service, and Bureau of Land Management offices.

four-wheel drive, 4-wheel drive, 4WD Four-wheel-drive is preferred in interpretive text that modifies a trail or vehicle; on a map use the 4WD symbol or label as 4-wheel drive. See ORV, OSV.

Text: Most unpaved roads to the summit require a four-wheel-drive vehicle.
but Most unpaved roads to the summit require four-wheel drive.
Map: Unpaved road. 4-wheel-drive vehicles only.

fractions In text spell out if amounts are less than one, if standing alone, or if followed by “of a” or “of an”—use a hyphen between the words. Use fractions in unit modifiers (even if amount is less than one). Use glyph or symbol if available in your software; otherwise try to stack numbers in the fraction: $\frac{5}{8}$ (not 5/8).

In March three-fourths of the lake is open to anglers.
not In March $\frac{3}{4}$ of the lake is open to anglers.
The beetle is three-quarters of an inch long.
The steep $\frac{1}{2}$ -mile hike takes about one hour round-trip.
but The steep trail is one-half mile long.

freed, free Free refers to people never enslaved. Freed refers to formerly enslaved people. See also enslaved, slave, slavery.

freedmen Avoid unless in a quotation or title.

The Freedmen’s Bureau was established to help formerly enslaved African Americans.

fresh water Two words if a noun; one word if an adjective. See salt water.

frontcountry Avoid if possible; it is jargon.

• game Do not use when referring to animals. Say wildlife, animals, or be specific.

genus, species See scientific names.

geographic names The US Board on Geographic Names (BGN) standardizes the names of places, features, and areas in the 50 states and in other areas under US sovereignty. It also standardizes geographic names for features in US territorial waters.

For general information: Geographic Names Information System (GNIS) www.geonames.usgs.gov

For federally recognized names: www.geonames.usgs.gov/domestic/index

1. Federally recognized names—as a US government agency, NPS must use federally recognized place names as found in the Geographic Names Information System (GNIS).

2. Variant name—these often include historical or locally used names and misspellings; if using a variant name, show the federally recognized name first and the variant name second; the variant name must be clearly distinguished as a variant (for example, put the variant name in parentheses or different type size or typeface).

3. Historical names—place names can be used in a historical context; watch out for names that use apostrophes and names that may be one or two words.
