The mileage bar doesn't reflect the winding nature of roads in the John Day region. Note that the scale of this map can't show how much local roads twist and turn through mountainous terrain and along rivers. The topography can add 25% to 50% to drive time.

Availability of Services

Thank you for supporting local Oregon businesses.

Mercantiles in area towns carry most essential items. Supermarkets are available in John Day and Prineville. WiFi may be available at some local businesses for customers. Cell service is carrier dependent. Do not expect coverage between towns due to the mountainous terrain.

Most services shown on the map are open 7 days/wk during the summer season but some may be closed 1-2 days/wk.

Plan to purchase fuel before 5pm. There are no 24 hour gas stations in the region except Prineville. Gas stations close between 5pm and 8pm. Motorists may not pump their own gas in Oregon. Some gas stations have reduced hours on Sundays. Towns labeled with the gas station icon should have fuel available seven days per week in the summer.

Can I camp in John Day Fossil Beds National Monument?

No camping is allowed inside the three units of the monument but plenty of commercial and public options are available nearby. For dispersed camping on public lands, inquire with the Bureau of Land Management or the Forest Service.
