

Martin Luther King, Jr. National Historic Site

Born and Raised in Sweet Auburn

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. grew up in this home at 501 Auburn Avenue in Atlanta, Georgia. The neighborhood was racially segregated by law. King carried the values he learned here from his family, church, and community as a child as he went on to become a leader of the modern American Civil Rights Movement.

To learn more, visit: www.nps.gov/malu

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE