

National Park Service Department of the Interior

Manhattan Project National Historical Park
Oak Ridge, Tennessee

Manhattan Project Scholars Report Available.

The NPS invited a group of experts, including participants from Hiroshima and Nagasaki, to participate in a scholars' forum on the Manhattan Project in Washington, DC this past November. The intent of the workshop was to identify topics and aspects of the Manhattan Project that should be incorporated into the interpretive planning for the Manhattan Project National Historical Park. The report from this workshop has been completed and is being made available at:

<http://www.nps.gov/mapr/management.htm>.

Manhattan Project Junior Ranger Program starts on MLK weekend.

The Manhattan Project's Oak Ridge site has its own Junior Ranger Booklet which debuts Saturday, January 16. Children who finish the booklet earn a badge. Bring the kids by to AMSE or go to <http://www.nps.gov/mapr/learn/kidsyouth/beajuniorranger.htm> to download your copy at home.

American Museum of Science and Energy Foundation has created a fund in which tax-deductible contributions can be received to support the Oak Ridge site's needs. Donations can be made to the "Friends of Manhattan Project National Historical Park Fund" by visiting by visiting <http://amsefoundation.org/friends-of-manhattan-project-national-historical-park-fund/>.
