

Monocacy National Battlefield

Glenn Worthington

Fact: The Worthington farm was added to Monocacy National Battlefield in 1982.

Six-year-old Glenn Worthington witnessed the battle of Monocacy through cracks in a boarded up cellar window of his house. There he hid with his family through most of the day. As an adult, Glenn wrote Fighting for Time, about the battle of Monocacy, and encouraged others to make the battlefield a National Park.
