Discover an American Legacy

New Windsor Cantonment, Orange County

Traveling down the Hudson River, named by Native Americans as Mahicanituck, "the river that flows both ways," you discover people, places, and events that made American history. The cultural, historic, and scenic resources of the Hudson Valley are so numerous, so varied, and so compelling that it's no wonder Congress recognized the Hudson River Valley as a National Heritage Area in 1996. The National Park Service called the region the "landscape that defined America." Its political importance was demonstrated early in our history when the river played a critical role in the Revolutionary War. 🇺🇸

The many streams and waterfalls of the tributaries of the Hudson River powered early sawmills and gristmills. The river and its landscapes inspired the Hudson River School painters. Sublime and picturesque paintings by Thomas Cole, Frederic Church, and Asher Durand depicted this unique American landscape for the world to witness. 🖌️ Industrialists and commercial leaders such as William and John D. Rockefeller, Frederick Vanderbilt, J.P. Morgan, and Ogden Mills built their great estates along the Hudson River. 🏠

Extending from Waterford, just north of Albany, to the northern border of New York City, the Maurice D. Hinchey Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area encompasses more than four million acres. The region is home to seven National Historic Sites, 68 National Historic Landmarks, 133 historic districts, and more than 1,000 sites listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The Maurice D. Hinchey Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area is managed by the Hudson River Valley Greenway with technical and financial support from the National Park Service.

GOVERNOR
Kathy Hochul

“As the Hudson Valley continues to emerge from the COVID-19 pandemic, I am pleased to announce the 2022

Hudson River Valley Ramble will take place throughout September. As one of New York State's gems, the Hudson River Valley is home to some of the most significant historical and cultural sites in the country, and we are committed to continuing to invest and promote this region as we build back better and stronger. The natural resources of the area provide unrivaled recreational opportunities for many New York residents in their own backyards - connecting heritage and recreation, helping drive tourism, attracting visitors, and promoting a deeper appreciation for New York's environment and history. Thank you to the many organizations that contribute to the Ramble's success and for providing experiences that visitors will remember for a lifetime.”

The 22nd Annual Hudson River Valley Ramble

The Maurice D. Hinchey Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area and all of our partners are excited to bring you the 22nd Annual Ramble this year. Throughout its 22 years, the Hudson River Valley Ramble has celebrated the history, culture, and natural resources of the Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area, as well as the amazing landscapes, communities, and trails across the region.

We are very fortunate to have many returning Ramble event leaders, as well as some exciting new events to entice everyone to get out and explore the Hudson Valley this September. Ramble events may occur any day throughout the month of September, as well as October 1-2.

Whether you are interested in a fun or challenging hike, bike ride, or paddle; an inspiring walk through the grounds and homes of some of the Valley's most notable artists, authors, and great Americans; a trip back in time to experience the significant role the region played in the Revolutionary War; a family-fun festival; or river exploration event, there is a huge variety of events to enjoy!

A printable PDF version of this guide is available on our homepage, at: HudsonRiverValleyRamble.com

The Ramble website also features a searchable interface of all the events by region, event type, date, or keyword. You can find directions to each event and contact information for each event leader.

Thank you for spending the last 22 years celebrating this beautiful region with us! We hope to see you at an event this September!

The Hudson River Estuary

Norrie Point. Photo by Chris Bowser.

For nearly half its 315-mile length, the Hudson River is an estuary, an arm of the sea where fresh water from the river’s Adirondack headwaters and numerous tributaries meets and mixes with salty ocean water. From the dam at Troy, the Hudson River estuary ebbs and flows for 153 miles to New York Harbor, creating a rich ecosystem pulsing with life. Its waters and tidal marshes provide habitat for more than 200 species of fish, and nursery areas for key commercial and recreational species including striped bass, American shad, bluefish, and blue crab. Bald eagles, osprey, herons, and waterfowl feed on the Hudson’s bounty while nesting and migrating. Protected by surrounding forest lands, the streams of the estuary’s watershed supply drinking water to millions. The Ramble features estuary-themed events sponsored by the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation’s Hudson River Estuary Program and partners, which are denoted by the Atlantic sturgeon symbol.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION (DEC) COMMISSIONER
Basil Seggos

“DEC is proud to partner in this year’s annual Hudson Valley Ramble, which encourages New Yorkers to get outside and experience our state’s world-class wildlife habitats, historic sites, and recreational opportunities. The Hudson River is an environmental gem, and the Ramble spotlights this region for visitors across the state and the nation.”

The Estuary Program leads a regional effort to ensure clean water, protect and restore fish, wildlife, and their habitats; provide education and river access; adapt to climate change; and conserve world-famous scenic views. The program is guided by the Estuary Action Agenda, a forward-looking plan developed with input from communities up and down the river. The Action Agenda’s success comes from partnerships with several agencies, local governments, and regional organizations. For information on the Hudson River estuary, the Estuary Program, and how to partner in this conservation effort, visit: dec.ny.gov/lands/4920.html.

HUDSON RIVER ESTUARY-THEMED SERIES

In celebration of National Estuaries Week, the Hudson River Valley Ramble highlights the wetlands, wildlife, and water resources that make the Hudson a world-famous estuary. The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation’s Hudson River Estuary Program and partners present a series of land and water explorations that will open your eyes to the wonders of “the river that flows both ways.” Estuary events are marked with the sturgeon icon: Look for the many ways you can explore the Hudson River estuary during the Ramble. Experience the Hudson River estuary up close through boating and paddling events, learning about life along the shore and in the marshes, and exploring the far reaches of the Hudson River estuary watershed.

NATIONAL ESTUARIES WEEK

SEPTEMBER 17 - 24, 2022

Each year in late September, people across the country celebrate these magical places where fresh water from rivers mixes with salt water from the ocean. Estuaries connect rivers and oceans and are used as spawning grounds and nurseries by at least two-thirds of the nation’s commercial fish and shellfish. Tidal wetlands associated with estuaries protect uplands from coastal flooding and provide habitats for migratory birds. Estuaries also offer recreational opportunities such as swimming, boating, and bird watching. To learn more, go to estuaries.org.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF THE HUDSON RIVER THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2022

A Day in the Life of the Hudson River Estuary brings schools to the river to celebrate the Hudson and educate participants about our unique estuary. Part of National Estuaries Day, the event is coordinated by the Hudson River Estuary Program in partnership with Columbia University’s Lamont-Doherty Earth Observatory. Each fall, environmental educators team with school classes to collect data that will create an ecological snapshot of the estuary from the Federal Dam in Troy to New York Harbor. For more information, visit dec.ny.gov/lands/47285.html.

Explore State Parks and Historic Sites

The state park system is one of the Empire State’s greatest treasures encompassing more than 250 diverse parks, historic sites, trails, golf courses, boat launches, and more, with 350,000 acres of protected land and water. New ways to discover the Hudson Valley include cycling or walking the Empire State Trail and exploring the Hudson Eagles Recreation Area, which focuses to improve public access and resiliency on the stretch of the Hudson River between Albany and Kingston and enhance connections to the waterfront communities in the region. This season we are proud to participate in the Hudson River Valley Ramble once again, showcasing some of our flagship properties and hidden gems. Our Ramble lineup features a wide variety of engaging events and programs, from historic house tours to battle reenactments, guided hikes, walks, nature education, and outdoor adventures. New York’s state parks and sites are the perfect backdrop to explore and make memories with family and friends. TRAIL TIPS

1. Look for "Ramble" signs directing you to each trailhead.
2. Wear sturdy shoes: for hikes, an over-the-ankle boot.
No flimsy flats, flip-flops, sandals, or bare feet.
3. Long pants are recommended for walks/hikes in rural terrain.
4. Carry a water bottle.
5. Bring snacks/lunch for hikes lasting several hours.
6. Bring a rain jacket.
7. Stay on the trail.
8. Never get out of sight of the guide.
9. If you have to leave a walk before it's completed, notify the leader.
10. Don't remove any foliage, flowers, rocks, or other items.
11. Carry it in. Carry it out. Leave nothing behind but your footprints.

Untermeyer Park & Gardens
945 North Broadway, Yonkers 10701
914-613-4502

gardens@untermyergardens.org

This tour highlights the history of the estate from its origin in 1862, through each of its three owners, emphasizing its world famous heyday in the Untermeyer years, its dramatic decline after 1940, and the remarkable restoration efforts that have been ongoing from 2011 to the present day. There will be an emphasis on Samuel Untermeyer and his wife and their place in early 20th century history as well as discussion of the remarkable architecture of the gardens. There will be some limited discussion of the horticulture but the magnificent plantings will mostly speak for themselves. Children twelve and under are free. As the tour goes down the steps of the Vista and then back up a woodland path to the Temple of Love, we suggest sturdy shoes. Strollers are not advised for the tours.

View the Kingston Rondout Lighthouse and the Esopus Meadows Lighthouse Aboard a 100% Solar Powered Boat Built by the Hudson River Maritime Museum! On this cruise, see stunning views of two historic Hudson River lighthouses - in one boat ride! The last of three separate lighthouses marking the entrance to Rondout Creek, the Rondout Lighthouse is a beautiful yellow brick structure. Completed in 1915 it is still a working navigational light. Located off of Black Creek in the Town of Esopus the Esopus Meadows Lighthouse warns mariners away from the "Esopus Meadows," a shallow marshy area stretching from the west side of the Hudson River out near the navigation channel. Finished in 1871, it is the only wooden lighthouse left on the Hudson River. Both lighthouses are two of only seven remaining on the Hudson River. Please note: On this sightseeing cruise, Solaris does not stop at either lighthouse. To visit the interiors of each, please choose either the Rondout Lighthouse Tour or Esopus Meadows Lighthouse Tour.

U.S. SENATOR
Charles E. Schumer

“As autumn comes, bringing with it crisp air and vibrant shades of red, orange, and yellow, so comes the Hudson River Valley Ramble. In its 22nd year, the Ramble not only highlights the beauty of the Hudson Valley, but also its incredible environmental, cultural, and historical significance. This wonderful event connects visitors to the Valley's environment through tours of state parks, sanctuaries, and nature museums. Ramblers can glimpse into the state and the country's past with museums dedicated to the Revolutionary War, the Constitution, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and more. Locals and tourists alike benefit immensely from the majesty and knowledge that the Maurice D. Hinchey Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area offers. I am proud to have secured the funds needed to preserve the Heritage Area in this year's federal budget and look forward to celebrating the Ramble and all the Hudson Valley has to offer in the years to come.”

87. Rondout Sightseeing Cruise

Every Saturday 12:30PM
HRMM

CONGRESSMAN
Mondaire L. Jones

“ I'm so proud to be from the Hudson River Valley. Its beauty and history make it one of New York's most significant cultural sites, so I'm thrilled that Ramble will be back this year to celebrate it. Not only does Ramble bring new folks into the region to enjoy the Hudson Valley, but it cultivates interagency relationships within the Hudson Valley to help build community and stimulate the local economy. I'm so grateful to Ramble for helping folks across New York and beyond discover all the Hudson Valley has to offer.”

50 Rondout Landing, Kingston 12401
845-338-0071
pr@hrmm.org

As we cruise up Rondout Creek from the Hudson River Maritime Museum, you will learn about the industrial history of the area. Your knowledgeable tour guide will point out the remnants of historic structures such as Island Dock, the Wurts Street suspension bridge, railroad bridge, sunken barges, illustrated with historic images. In addition, your guide will discuss a modern industrial activity, including the history of Feeney Shipyard and the various marinas along the creek.
