Fall/Winter Edition 2018

The days are getting shorter, and the air is getting cooler, but there's still plenty to see and do in the fall/winter months. The myriad trees will display vibrant colors before they drop, and the occasional snowfall adds a serene blanket upon the Cumberland Plateau. This time of transition is a special time of year to visit the park.

Fall is a time of transition for Obed. The park's vibrant fall foliage peaks in late October, and once the leaves are gone, unobstructed views of panoramic vistas and detailed ice sculptures cannot help but be noticed. Wildlife is busy getting ready for the winter months by preparing their dens, growing out their winter coats, and storing up enough food to last them through spring. They can often times be clearly seen during this time of year, but please respect wildlife and observe them from a distance.

The temperatures during this time of year are ideal for taking in the park's 5,000 acres by hiking its 20+ miles of trails, and along 45 miles of stunning freeflowing rivers and streams. Fall is also a great time for camping at Rock Creek Campground, which is open year-round. Be sure to check the weather forecast ahead of time and pack accordingly to ensure a safe and enjoyable experience regardless of your activity.

Take the opportunity to read this guide, so you can make the best use of your time at Obed Wild & Scenic River. If you would like to learn more about the park, its resources, and its recreational opportunities, you can talk with a park ranger at the Obed Visitor Center in Wartrace, join us on one of our free ranger-led programs, or visit us online at www.nps.gov/obwi.

7 Hey Ranger!

See what the commonly asked questions are for the park.

Welcome to Obed Wild & Scenic River!

This is a very special year. Obed Wild & Scenic River will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Wild & Scenic Rivers Act. On October 2, 1968, President Lyndon Johnson signed the Wild & Scenic Rivers Act to preserve certain rivers with outstanding natural, cultural, and recreational values in a free-flowing condition for the enjoyment of present and future generations. Throughout 2018, the park will be offering special events to celebrate this momentous signing.

Obed WSR is one of the best examples of a free-flowing river system in the eastern United States. And the beauty of Obed WSR is on full display in the fall and winter months. Both first time and recurring visitors are sure to be impressed by spectacular scenery and fall foliage.

Whether you go for a hike along one of the park's trails, participate in one of our award-winning ranger-led programs, go whitewater paddling, or just go for a relaxing afternoon of fishing, there is something here for everyone.

A great way to start your visit to YOUR park is by stopping by the visitor center in downtown Wartrace. Knowledgeable park staff will give you the latest park information and updates to help you make the most of your park experience. While you're there, watch our award-winning park film. It's only 12 minutes long and does a fabulous job of showing why this place is so special.

Regardless of which activity you choose to enjoy, I invite you to #FindYourWay to get out and explore America's national scenic, recreational, and historic wild and scenic rivers.
