

OLYMPIC NATIONAL PARK

DAY HIKE SUGGESTIONS

One of the best ways to see a variety of environments within the Park in a limited amount of time is through short day hikes. The hikes listed below are suggestions. See Park map for more ideas.

Before hiking you should know:

1. Pets are prohibited on all Park trails except at Rialto Beach to Hole in the Wall and on the Kalaloch beaches. This is for the safety of your pet, the wildlife, and you. Pets are allowed on a leash (up to a 6' in length) in campgrounds and parking areas.

2. Pack out all garbage.

3. Use privies (pit toilets) where available. Otherwise, make your toilet in a shallow slit trench, away from campfires and trails, and at least 100 feet from water. Cover the trench with earth when you are finished.

Trails accessible for wheelchair travel are noted with (*) behind the trail name. Those accessible for wheelchair travel requiring assistance are noted with (). All others are not recommended for wheelchair usage.

HEART O' THE HILLS AND HURRICANE RIDGE

Heart of the Forest Trail begins at Loop E of the Heart of the Hills campground. Typical lowland forest with dense vegetation. 2 miles one way.

Hurricane Hill Trail () begins at the end of the Hurricane Ridge Road. In the 1.5 miles to the top of the hill are mountain peak vistas, a view of Port Angeles, and the Straits of Juan de Fuca. Wildflowers are numerous in early summer. (Wheelchair first .5 mile only. This portion is paved but with steep drop offs and no guard rail).

Meadow Loop Trails () begin near Hurricane Ridge Visitor Center. They offer strolls through a typical subalpine environment, thick with wildflowers in summer. Watch for blacktailed deer (DO NOT FEED!) and listen for the whistle of the Olympic marmot. The trails continue to Mt. Angeles and Klahhane Ridge. (Wheelchair: some steep hills, 1/2 is paved).

ELWHA

Cascade Rock Trail leads east from the Elwha campground. Two miles one way.

Griff Creek Trail begins behind the ranger station and has sections of steep switchbacks. 2.8 miles one way.

Krause Bottom Trail begins at the end of the Whiskey Bend Road, a narrow road south of the Elwha campground. The trail is on the side of a wooded ridge above the Elwha river. After 1.5 miles is the turn off to Krause Bottom. Along Krause Bottom it is another .5 mile down to the river. Trout fishing. The main Elwha trail continues south through the Park. Another .5 mile past the Krause Bottom turn off is Humes Ranch, an old homesteading cabin.

Madison Falls Trail (*) wanders through meadow and forest grove, then follows Madison Creek through a cleft in the mountainside to splendid falls that cascade a hundred feet down basalt cliffs. The trail also wanders through a century of pioneer history, commencing near Smith's timber claim and Sweet's Cedarvale Resort, ending at Matteson's mining claim by the falls. 0.1 mile one way.

LAKE CRESCENT

Marymere Falls () is a spectacular 90' waterfall just one mile from Lake Crescent. The trail leads through old growth forest with flowering plants and mushrooms in season. (Wheelchair: first 3/4 mile to Barnes Creek overlook only. Flat, loose graveled surface).

Mount Storm King Trail climbs steeply for 1.7 miles from the Marymere Falls trail to a point on the ridge. Travel beyond that point to the top is over difficult terrain and the trail is not maintained. Good views of Lake Crescent.

Pyramid Peak Trail begins on the north shore of the lake and climbs 2600' in 3.5 miles. At the summit is a World War II aircraft spotter station. Good views of Lake Crescent and the Strait of Juan de Fuca enroute.

Spruce Railroad Trail connects the North Shore and Lyre River trailheads. Much of this relatively flat 4 miles (each way) trail runs on or adjacent to the World World I Spruce Railway bed and offers excellent Lake Crescent views. It is a designated bike trail. Watch for ticks and poison oak.

SOL DUC

Sol Duc Falls is 0.8 miles from the end of the Sol Duc River Road through dense forest. Sol Duc Falls/Lover's Lane loop (via campground) is six miles. The Lover's Lane section is rough and rocky. Mink Lake Trail begins at the Sol Duc Resort and climbs 1400' in 2.5 miles through dense forest to the lake. Trout fishing.

Ancient Groves Nature Trail is a one-half mile loop through an old-growth forest and connects two roadside turnouts. For your safety, return along the loop trail rather than the road.

LAKE OZETTE TO THE PACIFIC COAST

Two trails to the coast begin at the end of the Lake Ozette road. The Cape Alava Trail, the northern trail, is 3.3 miles and the southern trail, the Sand Point Trail is 3.0 miles to the beach.
