Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument

Planning Your Visit

Plan Ahead

Many people base the time of their visit on the season, the temperature, and blooming wildflowers or cacti. Your time, interests and abilities will further determine how you experience the monument. Temperature and wildflower charts are included on the reverse. The following are offered as suggestions only.

If You Have:

One Hour

Welcome to the Kris Eggle Visitor Center!
Combine at least two of these activities:

- Watch a 15-minute informative video presentation to see spectacular photos of the monument.
- Take a leisurely walk on the 1/10 mile accessible nature trail behind the Kris Eggle Visitor Center.

- Stroll through our exhibit room to learn what makes this monument so special.

- Explore a little of the Sonoran Desert by driving the 10-miles round trip section of North Puerto Blanco Scenic Drive.

- Browse the bookstore.

Two or Three Hours

Do some of the above, then:

- Walk the easy 1.2-mile Desert View Nature Trail to learn more about the desert plants and the people who lived in this area.

Or...

- Tour the 21-mile Ajo Mountain Scenic Loop. Drive through impressive stands of organ pipe, saguaro, and other cacti. Journey beneath tall cliffs and marvel at impressive views from volcanic mountainsides. This graded dirt road easily accommodates passenger vehicles, but is not recommended for motorhomes or trailers over 25 feet in length. Trailers may be left at the Kris Eggle Visitor Center parking area during your loop drive.

Half Day

Any of the above, plus:

- Take a hike toward the arches in Arch Canyon, or to the historic structures at Victoria Mine and Alamo Canyon.

Or...

- Hike the rugged Estes Canyon-Bull Pasture trail to discover a unique ecosystem high in the Ajo Mountains. Imagine how early day ranchers drove their bulls to this remote pasture-like basin.

Other hikes may also be available.

All Day

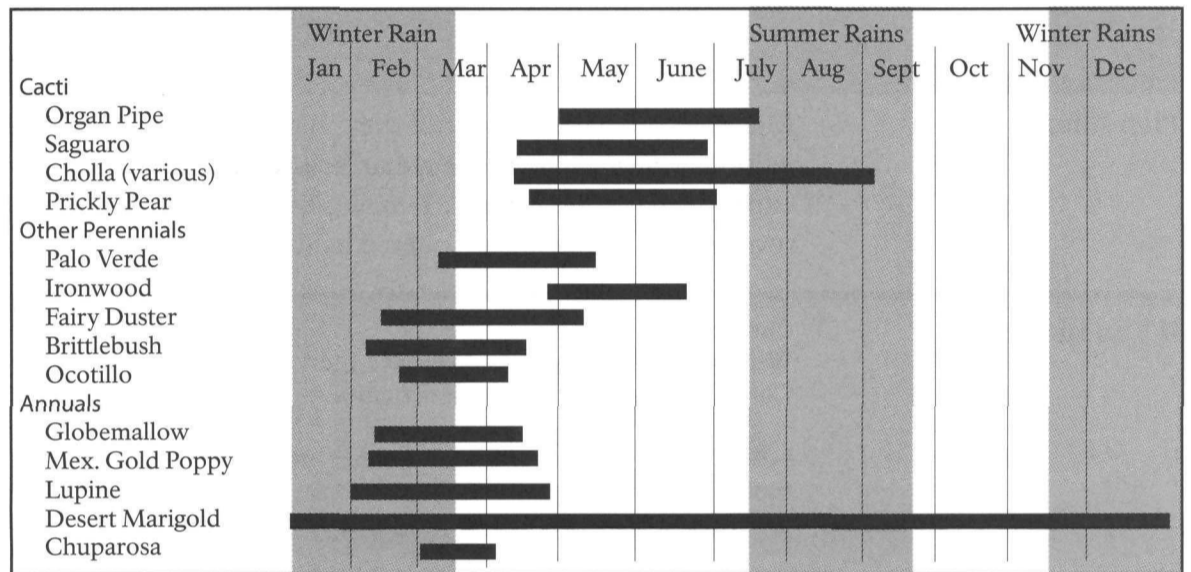

Combine any of the above. Bring your picnic lunch, camera, binoculars, and guidebooks, and

- Ask the visitor center staff for further suggestions.
