

Devil's Playground

The Devil's Playground is a strangely beautiful, highly eroded part of the park, worthy of exploration. Before last spring, it was quite a long, backcountry hike. Now there is access, by free permit only, to this southwest portion of the Petrified Forest National Wilderness Area. Permits are available at the Painted Desert Visitor Center on a very limited basis. Instructions on how to get to Devil's Playground will be given with the permit.
