

Cane River Creole National Historical Park

Generations of Slave and Free Under the Same Roof at Magnolia

Enslaved people lived in simple brick quarters at Magnolia Plantation. After the Civil War, many of these former slaves kept working as freed people earning a wage. Some of their children and grandchildren continued to live in the quarters until the 1960s. These people were essential to the success and longevity of the Magnolia Plantation.

To learn more, visit: www.nps.gov/cari

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE