

Photo courtesy of
Judge Henley Hunter

Overcoming Adversity For Both Enslaved and Free

Elise and Cora LeComte grew up at Magnolia Plantation. Their family's home was destroyed during the Civil War. Elise later married the owner of Oakland Plantation, Jacques Alphonse Prud'homme. Together, they helped Oakland's enslaved population make the transition to freedom.

To learn more, visit: www.nps.gov/cari

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE