

Big Cypress National Preserve

Burmese Python

Burmese Python

(Python molorus bivittatus)

(Invasive)

These popular pets have become a big problem in Big Cypress National Preserve. Cute when they are small, many owners are unable to care for a 12-19ft fully grown python. Released into the wild, these invasive reptiles are impacting native species. Pythons have been known to eat entire deer and even alligators! Do your part to save Big Cypress - if you see a python, report it.

Want more information?
Scan this code!

