

Cape Chronicle

October 21, 2020 | Issue 65

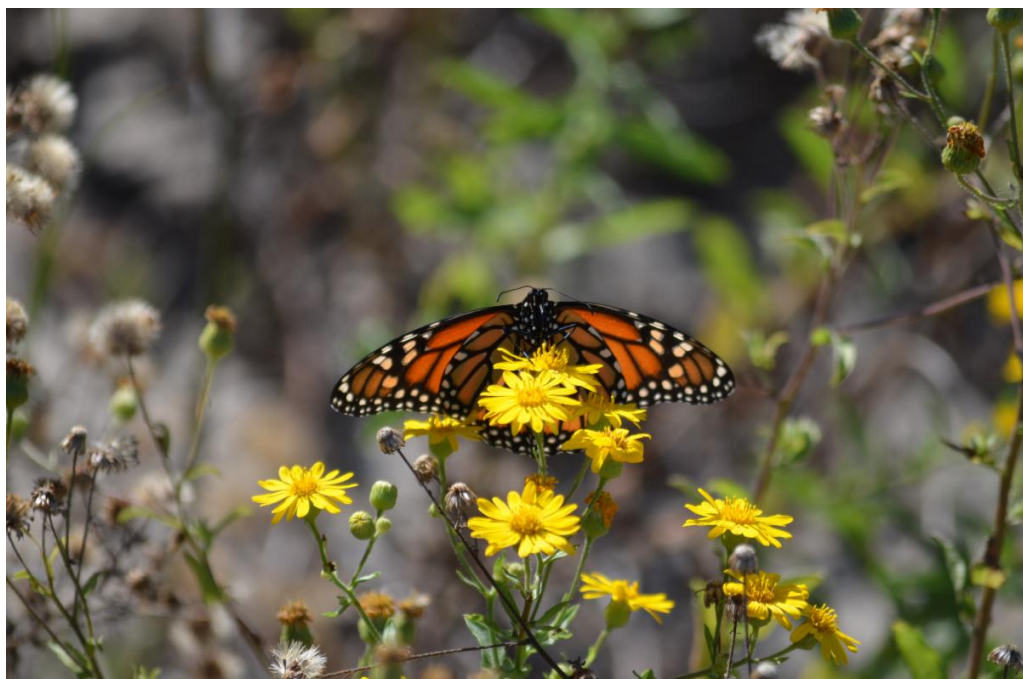

Photos of the Week

This 1874 building at Little Kinnakeet Life Saving Station once served as the main station building at the original oceanside location, ¼ mile north. Following the storm of 1899, the 1874-type station building was moved to its current soundside location and converted to a boat house.

Peregrine falcon enjoying the sun and the beach on Bodie Island.

Monarch butterfly taking advantage of freshly bloomed shaggy golden aster.

Seashore Updates

- The Federal Highway Administration recently completed a project to preserve many of the paved roads and parking areas within Cape Hatteras National Seashore (Seashore), Fort Raleigh National Historic Site, and Wright Brothers National Memorial.
- Reminder: Deadline to submit your comments on the Seashore's Sediment Management Framework Draft Environmental Impact Statement is November

Did you know?

Camping at Cape Hatteras National Seashore is so popular that the web page for camping information is the most visited page on the Seashore's website.

A project to restore a large section of dune at the east end of Cape Hatteras Pier Drive began on October 19. DOT Construction, Inc. (Morehead City, NC) expects to finish hauling sand, shaping the dune, and planting American beach grass on the dune by early December.

Photos

News Releases

Website

Beach Access

Camping

Lighthouses

Nature

Swimming

Fishing

OBX Forever

Connect with Cape Hatteras National Seashore on social media

Cape Hatteras National Seashore's Cape Chronicle e-Newsletter provides brief, timely, and newsworthy content throughout the year. For more information about America's first national seashore, visit www.nps.gov/caha.

The National Park Service preserves unimpaired the natural and cultural resources and values of the National Park System for the enjoyment, education, and inspiration of this and future generations. The Park Service cooperates with partners to extend the benefits of natural and cultural resource conservation and outdoor recreation throughout this country and the world.

Share

Tweet

Share