Not only is the C&O Canal National Historical Park known as a world class recreation destination, the historic Canal Towns adjacent to it offer a variety of art destinations sure to please the culture loving side of any visitor.

The Canal Towns embrace a long, storied history of transportation achievements and cultural heritage including art. Although popular today as quaint and welcoming stations for trail adventurers to enjoy with unique shopping, food and drink offerings; the towns have much more to offer as well.

Expand the adventure by planning your trip to include visits to local art galleries, handcraft shops, theaters, museums, and areas of outdoor public art displays. Stop in the towns and enjoy each unique art scene. Take in a concert or live theater. Special events with a variety of art and craft vendors occur throughout the year. www.canaltrust.org
