Inaugural Manhattan Project National Historical Park Oak Ridge Site eNewsletter Monthly Information on Upcoming Events at the Park

Our nation's newest national park is getting up and running. A National Park Ranger is now staffing a desk located at the American Museum of Science and Energy at 300 S. Tulane Avenue, Oak Ridge, Tennessee every Saturday. We plan to provide seven days a week coverage within the next few months, until then you can reach us Mondays through Fridays at 423-569-9778.

National Parks depend on volunteers and the Manhattan Project's Oak Ridge site already has wonderful people volunteering their valuable time to help get things going. A big shout out to folks at the Oak Ridge Children's Museum and Oak Ridge Associated Universities for helping develop the site's own Junior Ranger Booklet that should be available sometime in January.

Upcoming January Events:

- Volunteer Opportunities Information Session on Thursday, January 21 starting at 10 am (ET) and will be held in the Midtown Community Center located at 102 Robertsville Road in Oak Ridge. Interested in being a volunteer? Come to the meeting and learn more or contact Effie Houston at 423-569-9778 or Effie_Houston@nps.gov.

Upcoming February Events:

- Foundation Document Public Meeting on Monday, February 1 starting at 5 pm (ET) and will be held at the Oak Ridge High School Cafeteria.
- WWII National Parks Film Festival on Saturday afternoon, February 20 starting at 1 pm (ET) at the American Museum of Science and Energy.
