Visitor Activity Planner

Natchez Trace Parkway

Points of Interest by Milepost Location

Happenings& Highlights

Mount Locust

Milepost 15.5

Only remaining inn or stand that served travelers on the Old Trace. Restored and furnished to its 1820 appearance. Old Trace and short selfguided walk. Grounds open all year. Inn is open daily February through November, 8:30-5:00 with Ranger talks, tours, and demonstrations.

Rocky Springs

Milepost 54.8

Site of Rocky Springs, a once prosperous rural community with few visible remains, except for the church and cemetery, located on private land (visitors welcome). Self-guided trail through townsite area. Campground, picnic area, and section of Old Trace.

Saturday evening Ranger talk at campground amphitheater, 8:15 p.m.

April through October

Visitor information station open weekends:
April through October

Ridgeland Crafts Center

Milepost 102.4

Exhibits, information, and Mississippi handicraft items on display and for sale. Craft demonstrations on weekends March through October. Crafts Center open daily, 9:00-5:00, except Christmas.

French Camp

Milepost 180.8

Sorghum making demonstration, Saturdays 9:00-5:00, last Saturday in September through last Saturday in October

Tupelo Visitor Center

Milepost 266.0

Visitor Center and Parkway Headquarters open daily 8:00-5:00, except Christmas. Exhibits, information, orientation program. Annual anniversary celebration with special programs and activities the third Sunday in May, 1:00-4:30 p.m. Outside nature trail and sorghum exhibit.

Colbert Ferry

Milepost 327.3

Site of George Colbert House, short section of Old Trace, and ferry crossing site at the Tennessee River. Picnic area, swimming beach (lifeguards on duty in summer), and boat launch ramp. Information station staffed weekends (June through October) and most weekdays.

Georgetown Fair, 9:00-6:00, second weekend in May. Festival features arts, crafts, and entertainment of Northwest Alabama and surrounding areas.

Meriwether Lewis

Milepost 385.9

Site of death and burial of famed explorer, pioneer cemetery, exhibit room, campground, and picnic area.

Meriwether Lewis Country Fair and Arts Festival, 9:00-5:30, second full weekend in October. Festival features arts and crafts of South Central Tennessee.

Self-Guiding Trails

There are many self-guiding trails located along the Natchez Trace Parkway which explain the natural and human history of the region. Length of time to walk these trails varies from 5 to 20 minutes. Look for the approach and introductory signs as you drive along the parkway.

Other Services

No admission fees are charged. Please drive carefully as you explore the parkway.

Information and assistance can be obtained at a ranger station, public contact station, or from any National Park Service employee.

Publications and color slides are available to help you appreciate the Natchez Trace Parkway. A complete list of sales items may be obtained by writing to the Eastern National Park & Monument Association, Natchez Trace Parkway, Rural Route 1, NT-143, Tupelo, Mississippi 38801.

For Your Safety

Drive Safely

The parkway speed limit is 50 MPH for traveler safety, relaxation, and enjoyment. On occasion, cattle, deer, dogs, and other animals wander onto the parkway. Be alert for them. Each year approximately 150 deer are killed along the Natchez Trace. Something also happened to 150 vehicles.

Driver Fatigue

Fatigue and inattention are major causes of parkway motor vehicle accidents. Stop often to rest. Walk the short interpretive trails along the parkway. Most require only minutes.

Fire Ants

Be careful to notice where you stand. The painful bites of these tiny 3/16" long ants may be your first warning that you are standing on their nest. Look for their fine-grained dirt mounds along the trails and parkway, but never disturb them.

Poison Ivy

One of the more common plants along the parkway, poison ivy is a ground cover and also climbs trees as a vine. Heed the saying "Leaves of three, let it be."

Poisonous Snakes

Copperheads, cottonmouths, and rattlesnakes inhabit the three-state area through which the parkway passes. Chances are, you will never see one. Although snakebites are seldom fatal, victims require hospitalization, so please be alert when walking.

The National Park Service strives to eliminate hazards along the parkway to provide all travelers with a safe, enjoyable visit. If you should notice any unsafe condition, please report it to any park employee, call (601) 842-1572, or write to:

Natchez Trace Parkway RR 1, NT-143, Tupelo, MS 38801

