TRAIL HIGHLIGHTS

- * THE JOSEPH PLUMB MARTIN TRAIL
Named for a Continental Soldier, this busy, 6.5-mile, paved loop trail connects all the key historic sites on the south side of the park. The trail is hilly in sections, and generally unshaded.
- * THE CHAPEL TRAIL
Stretching from Washington's Headquarters to the park's eastern edge, this shady trail provides both lengthy level stretches and some steep sections, with great views of the Schuylkill River.
- * THE VALLEY CREEK TRAIL
This mostly level trail takes you along the creek and by the site of the Valley Forge.
- * MOUNT JOY AND MOUNT MISERY TRAILS
The wooded trails here are among the steepest in the park, but also provide great views, a variety of experiences, and access to the historic Horse-Shoe Trail.
- * THE HORSE-SHOE TRAIL
Within the park, this is a steep, woodland trail. It runs 140 miles beyond the park all the way to the Appalachian Trail.
- * THE RIVER TRAIL
A leisurely walk or ride on the three-mile River Trail brings solitude and the chance to see wildlife along the Schuylkill River.
- * THE COMMISSARY TRAIL
This level trail traverses part of the historic Pawling Farm, site of the final weeks of the Continental Army's 1777-78 winter encampment.
- * THE SCHUYLKILL RIVER TRAIL
This wide, paved trail runs for two miles through the park. You can travel all the way to Philadelphia, or use connectors such as the Perkiomen Trail and the Audubon Loop Trail to reach more parks, historic sites, and towns. This trail also can be accessed from many points beyond the park.

SAFETY AND COURTESY GUIDELINES

To ensure your safety and to protect sensitive historic and natural resources in the park, please respect the park and abide by these common-sense regulations:

Trails are designated for certain uses (hiking, biking, and/or horseback riding) as shown on the map, for your safety and in order to prevent resource damage. Using trails for undesignated uses is prohibited.

Dogs must stay on-leash and under a handler's control at all times while in the park. Please clean up after your dog.
